ENGLISH CHURCH PRIMATE SCOLDS BISHOP AND FOE

Row Over 'Gorilla Sermons' Grows.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The great English church controversy was carried a stage further today by the archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England. The archbishop's reply to the open letter of Dr. E. W. Barnes, bishop of Birmingham, followed the remarkable protest by Canon Bullock-Webster and his followers at St. Paul's cathedral last Sunday against Dr. Barnes' public pronouncements on the Darwin theory and the question of the transubstantiation—chiefly the latter.

The primate's reply was not so caustic as many had anticipated, most of it being devoted purely to the religious aspect of the question. The archbishop condemned the "unseemly" incident in the mother church of England, arguing that such scenes do not further the cause of truth. He suggested that Bishop Barnes was mistaken in his understanding as to what has evoked the "vehement reprobation of cultured men" against him.

Not Worried by "Gorilla Sermons."

"I do not attach great weight to the denunciations of what I have heard described as your 'gorilla sermons,'" the archbishop writes. "I believe you overrate the adherence of thoughtful people to creation theories of fifty and a hundred years ago."

The archbishop pointes out that he personally has been familiar for more than fifty years with Bishop Barnes' position regarding biological questions.

"The teaching, however admirable, is to most of us not novel, and I do not think those who hear your subject with interest and advantage would recognize themselves as 'wistful agnostics.'"

Urges More Careful Speech.

The archbishop then stresses a particular point with the reassurance, "You may dismiss, my dear bishop, the fear that any one in England desires to lead or drive you either to Rome or Tennessee," referring to Bishop Barnes' now famous declaration in his open letter last week, adding that the word giving rise to indignation "are the words you use in dealing with the sacrament of holy communion."

Replying to the Birmingham bishop's invitation to "consider what steps can be taken to help those of us who are giving our best to fit the church to be the future spiritual guide of an educated nation," the primate says, "I can say at once that in my judgment one of the first steps is to secure scrupulous use of the most careful language possible in dealing with doctrinal matters, the solemnity of which affect the devotional thoughts and prayers of the Christian people. That duty is obligatory upon every Christian teacher and is peculiarly incumbent upon us bishops who have to weigh the effect of our words upon all sections of the great body to whom we desire to be fathers in God."

Opposes Transubstantiation Theory.

"Do not suppose me to be unmindful of our duty to stem whatever trend there is in that way; the duty is clear," remarks the archbishop to Bishop Barnes' explanation that that was what he has been denounced for—"as a bishop of the Church of England to uphold its traditional sacramental doctrine and affirm that the doctrine of transubstatiation is untrue."

"But," the archbishop says, referring to the bishop of Birmingham's sermon, "in your natural and legitimate desire to denounce the few in the Church of England who hold or teach the doctrine of transubstantiation, you were led to speak of the sacrament of holy communion in a way which it is stated, reasonably I think, gives real offense to a great body of devout churchmen and churchwomen, not the least of those who are able to give scholarly as well as reverent consideration to the sacramental doctrines our church holds up."

Deplored by Archbishop of York.

Many references to the controversy were made today from Church of England pulpits throughout the country. The archbishop of York deplored the methods by which Bishop Barnes conducted the controversy, the Birmingham churchman seeming to impart into his discussions conceptions and methods "inappropriate in the sphere of spiritual experience."

Canon Bullock Webster, who made the now historic protest at St. Paul's, in his own church this morning declared that he had received congratulatory messages from more than 1,000 people representing all degrees of [illegible] and Protestants on his

Testifies Today at McAndrew Trial.

Former Congressman John J. Gorman, who has been sued for $100,000 by one historian, Prof. David Saville Muzzey, whom he accused of pro-British bias, is scheduled to resume the stand this afternoon in the school board trial of Supt. William McAndrew, now under suspension on the charge that he is insubordinate and a minion of King George. Mr. Gorman is expected to accuse at least three other writers of school history texts today. It is also understood he will charge that there are powerful influences in the University of Chicago which are setting the British lion on Chicgao's school pupils.

Gorman was delegated by Mayor Thompson to investigate historians allegedly subservient to British influences. Today's session will be the fifth in the trial.

To Hit More Historians.

"I am going to introduce," Gorman said, "stenographic reports of a rebellion against the use of Meller Schlesinger's history by a class of Chicago public school teachers who were studying under Prof. C. H. McLaughlin, head of the history department of the University of Chicago. McAndrew recommended that the teachers take McLaughlin's course in order to get additional credits for advancement in their profession.

"By studying this vicious un-American history, teachers were filled with pro-British ideals which they took back with them to their class rooms and handed on to their pupils. I shall also expose a history by Prof. McLaughlin and one in which McLaughlin and Dr. C. H. Van Tyne, of the University of Michigan, collaborated. It will be necessary for me to refer to these books in order to show the motives that actuate such men as Van Tyne and McLaughlin."

"War" Looks Good This Week.

With the trial today and with U. J. [Sport] Herrmann scheduled to start purging the Chicago public library of pro-British volumes by fire, there is promise that Mayor Thompson's warfare on King George will be as spirited this week as it was last.

That Herrmann's bonfire, however, may be only a smudge instead of a spectacular blaze was regarded as a possibility yesterday when Carl B. Roden, head librarian of the Chicago public library and president of the American Library association, returned home from a three months' trip to Europe.

Whereas Sport has estimated that John Bull propaganda is lurking in several thousand library volumes, enough to light up the lake front, Mr. Roden said that at most only twelve histories of an objectionable nature would be found on the shelves.

Roden Willing to Help.

The librarian said he is willing to help Herrmann, however, in his search for the suspected tomes. He declared he had no knowledge of a conscious effort on the part of Britain to subsidize American historians but that since the war "there has been a new school of history interpretation and some of them perhaps have overdone it a bit."

"The number of books of British copyright purchased by public libraries in this country is surprisingly small," Mr. Roden added.

Mr. Roden said he doubted that the English Speaking union and the Carnegie foundation are flooding the libraries with British propaganda, as has been charged during the McAndrew trial. He said that to his knowledge the English Speaking union does not circularize the Chicago public library, and that only one book, "The American Public Library As an Instrument of Public Education," by W. S. Learned, has been issued by the Carnegie foundation. "This is an excellent volume," Mr. Roden said.

Mentions German History.

In answer to the question of whether there is evidence of other nations attempting to inject propaganda into the libraries, Mr. Roden mentioned the 33 volume history of German international relations since the Franco-Prussian war, promoted by the German government and distributed among American libraries. He also referred to the Carl Schurz foundation in Germany, corresponding in purpose to the English Speaking union.

Frederick Rex, municipal reference librarian, was asked by Mayor Thompson yesterday to clear his shelves of pro-British books and to help in the campaign in the public library. Mr. Rex agreed. He said that although his library contains municipal documents exclusively, he had received pamphlets from the English Speaking union and the Carnegie foundation filled with pro-British propaganda.

Dickman, Yank Commander on Rhine, Is Dead

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Maj. Gen. Joseph Theodore Dickman, retired, who led the 3d American army into Germany, and participated in six major campaigns during the world war, died at his home here today following a heart attack. Gen. Dickman, who had been decorated by his own government as well as those of five foreign nations, retired from active duty on Oct. 5, 1921, after completing 45 years of service.

The general was born 70 years ago in Dayton, O., and graduated from the United States Military academy in 1881. He was appointed a second lieutenant and assigned to the 3d cavalry in the same year and with the exception of three years, his entire service until he reached the grade of lieutenant colonel was as a cavalry officer.

Chief of Staff in China.

In 1900, Gen. Dickman was chief of staff in the China relief expedition and between 1900 and 1902 saw service in two campaigns in the Philippine insurrection. When the United States entered the world war, Gen. Dickman was placed in command, successively, of the 85th division at Camp Custer, Mich., and later the 3d division at Camp Greene, N. C.

He went overseas with the Third division on March 4, 1918, and commanded in the Aisne defense, the Chateau Thierry sector, the Chapagne-Marne defense, and Aisne-Marne offense. As commander of the 4th corps, he led that unit in the St. Mihiel offenses and later commanded the First corps in the Meuse-Argonne offenses.

Led Army Into Germany.

He organized and commanded the 3d American army which he led into Germany as a lieutenant general and his last command after the war was at Fort Sam Houston over the 8th corps area. Gen. Dickman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Dickman, who lives in Washington; two daughters, a brother, and three sisters.

Boy Tumbles Off Runway at Cubs Park; Uninjured

In addition to the thrills of the game, spectators leaving the pro football game at Cubs' park yesterday were given an unscheduled scare when a small boy, Joe O'Donnell, in crowding down one of the runways, tumbled over the railing and landed on the crowd 20 feet below. W. H. Cross of the Commonwealth Edison company was knocked unconscious and his companion, P. G. Cowan, 3035 Poplar avenue, was bruised. The O'Donnell boy, aside from two teeth knocked out, seemed none the worse for his tumble. All three were given first aid treatment by Dr. Davis of the Bears team.

FIREMAN RUNS COLD WATER ON HARROWING STORY OF LOST LOVE

Fireman John Cosgrove of engine company 39 was toiling with grappling hooks yesterday on the dock at the foot of Iron street in the south branch. A group of neighbors gathered.

"He's looking for a body," said the first bystander to the second bystander.

"O," said the second bystander, turning to the third bystander, "he's looking for a body. It's a girl."

"O," said the third bystander, and he turned to the fourth bystander and said, "He's looking for a body. It's a girl. Her fellow threw her down."

"O," said the fourth bystander, and he turned to the fifth bystander and said, "He's looking for a body. It's a girl. Her fellow threw her down. She left a note."

"O," said the fifth bystander. "Who was this dastardly fellow," he asked Fireman Cosgrove.

"It was Fireman Harry Hammergreen," he replied, "and I hope somebody pours glue in his boots."

"And who was the beautiful maiden?"

"What are you talking about?" said Fireman Cosgrove. "I'm fishin' for my hat. Hammergreen knocked it into the river when we came down here on a fire last night."

"O," said the first, second, third, fourth and fifth bystanders. And they went home.

Reginald Andres, 21 years old, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head yesterday afternoon in the presence of 15 year old Gertrude Selmer, 8640 Exchange avenue, who had just refused for the fourth time in a week to marry him.

The shooting occurred in the hallway of the Selmer home. Gertrude's mother, Mrs. Peter Selmer, her sister, Irene, and Miss Fern Carlson, 8123 Escanaba avenue, were in a room only a few feet away.

Young Andres left a note in which he explained his despondency. He requested that Mr. and Mrs. Emil Strauss, 6428 Magnolia avenue, with whom he lived, be notified. Mrs. Strauss is an aunt of the youth.

Met Five Weeks Ago.

Gertrude told the police of meeting Reginald five weeks ago. He called on her often and a few days ago he proposed marriage.

"I'm too young," she said. "My mother wouldn't think of letting me get married."

Twice during the week he repeated the proposal. The answer each time was the same. Yesterday afternoon when he reached the Selmer home his young sweetheart was out. Mrs. Selmer gave him permission to wait for her daughter and when they met in the hall Reginald proposed marriage for the fourth time.

Again Gertrude declined to marry him. She added that it was better for him not to see her again unless they could be "just friends."

"All right," said Reginald. "Will you give this note to my mother?"

Points Gun at Girl.

He held the note out, but when she reached for it he stuck it in the band of his hat. Then he drew a pistol. One cartridge was discharged, apparently by accident. Next he pointed it at the girl, but instead of firing at her he pressed the weapon against his own head and shot himself.

The note urged that his relatives place no blame on Gertrude, whom he "really and truly loved."

John Andres, father of the youth, was a south side tailor. He died about a year ago. The youth's mother resides with a daughter at 2586 East 77th street.

Lindbergh's 22,350 Mile Tour Is Ended

New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Mitchel field today in his gray winged monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, and officially ended his three months' tour, during which he carried his appeal for aviation to thirty million persons.

He had traveled 22,350 miles in his jaunt about the country.

He was scheduled to arrive from Philadelphia at 2 o'clock and two thousand persons were waiting for him. Lieut. Col. Benjamin B. Foulois, commander at the post, glanced at lowering clouds which had brought a sprinkle of rain as the hour approached.

Arrives Ahead of Schedule.

"I think he may have been held up," the colonel said, but Harry F. Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, under the auspices of which Col. Lindbergh had made the tour, said:

"He will be here on schedule. He has made 82 stops on his tour, and except when fog prevented him from landing at Portland, Me., he has come in exactly on time."

As Mr. Guggenheim was speaking a cry arose from the field: "There he is!" And, gliding down over the hangars, came the wide winged Spirit of St. Louis. Lindbergh was one minute ahead of schedule.

"I feel fine," Lindy said. "I never felt better. I passed two physical examinations on the trip with the highest rating that I have ever made."

Plane in Great Shape.

Then the flyer turned the talk to his plane and motor. He said he had now flown it 355 hours, which included his first flight across the country, the passage of the Atlantic, and all his flying since then, and that it was in "great shape now."

Col. Lindbergh said he was not ready to comment on the results of his trip, nor would he draw a comparison between the interest in his tour of the country and its effect on aviation and his flight to Paris, but William C. McCracken, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, and Postmaster General New wrote that the tour had increased the interest in aviation and greatly increased the use of the air mail.

Asked concerning future plans, Col. Lindbergh smiled and shook his head.

"I haven't got any," he said, and seemed pleased to realize that he no longer had to follow such a schedule of receptions, parades, speeches and journeys as no man in this country ever faced before.

Finds Interest in Aviation Keen.

Col. Lindbergh said that he had not found a town of any consequence on his air passage over every state in the Union which did not have plans under way or already had a flying field. He said that the cities in the west and on the Pacific coast were especially active.

Burglars Loot Home of Sid Smith; Get Radio

Some of the detectives to be employed by Andy Gump for the purpose of finding worthy subjects for charity may be detailed to investigate a case for his creator, Sidney Smith, the cartoonist, it was learned last night. Burglars broke into the Smith apartment in the Belmont hotel yesterday while the family was spending the day in Lake Geneva. An inventory disclosed that a $100 radio set and two fox furs belonging to Mrs. Smith had been stolen.

Evanston Cop Takes Shot at Emmet Byrne, Crowe Aid

Assistant State's Attorney Emmet F. Byrne was shot at twice late last night by an Evanston probationary policeman, who said Byrne failed to heed his order to stop after running past a stoplight at Howard and Clark streets. AGRICULTURAL GAINS INSPIRE OPTIMISTIC NOTE

Annual Convention to Open Today.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Five thousand bankers, assembled here for the fifty-ninth annual convention of the American Bankers' association which opens here tomorrow, are viewing 1928 business conditions with pronounced optimism. A survey of their opinions reveals that favorable economic factors are considered greatly to overwhelm adverse factors and that the moderate recession of the last year was neither permanently injurious nor far reaching.

Among those who express confidence in a satisfactory trend for 1928 is Melvin A. Traylor, president of the association and president of the First Trust and Savings bank of Chicago.

Recession Is Sustained.

"On the whole," he said, "business has been satisfactory this year. This is true even though the upward trend of the last two years has not continued. In some important lines of industry recessions have taken place and profits generally have been lower even where the volume of business has not declined. It is a fortunate fact that such recession as has developed has affected lines best prepared to sustain it by a prolonged period of prosperity, namely, industry and commerce, rather than agriculture."

Chief among the favorable factors, the bankers place enhancement of agricultural purchasing power, due to the recent advance in price level of farm commodities; the freedom of all business from inflated inventories, and the generally sound financial condition of the banks of the country; the sanity with which government finances are being handled; the prosperity of the railroads; and, finally, the actual evidences of expanding autumn trade.

Do Not Deny Depression.

There is no attempt made on the part of the bankers to gloss over the fact that business has been poor in many important lines, notably in the oil industry, but the fact is emphasized that business fundamentals have not changed materially in the last twelve months.

A few of the bankers from the east who are in Houston for the convention look askance at the gyrations of the stock market, and the recent expansion of brokers' loans as an influence of possible disturbance in the future, but this attitude is hardly general.

Some of the midwestern and southern financiers consider it merely the providential opportunity for the employment of surplus funds.

Three other and fresher problems have been brought, all of which will be heard from before the convention is many hours old. The first—and many bankers think most important—is whether there shall be centralized control of the federal reserve system by the board, or whether this control shall be vested in the boards of the twelve federal reserve banks.

Foreign Loan "Veto."

The second is whether or not the treasury department should maintain its scrutiny of and supervision of foreign loans. The third is the growth of bank failures.

Although efforts are being made to keep the problem in committee, it is doubted whether the complex problem of federal reserve control can be kept off the convention floor.

The Chicago delegation literally has "blood in its eye" because of the fact that the governors of its own federal reserve bank were compelled by the federal reserve board to reduce their rediscount rate to 3½ per cent from 4 per cent, when members of the Chicago board thought such a move inexpedient and inadvisable. The Chicago delegation wants a clear ruling as to whether the power of the federal reserve on rediscount rates is to be centralized in the board at Washington or left in the hands of each local board.

Statements by Leaders.

CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD, second vice president American Bankers' association—Business is about 10 per cent off, but there is nothing radically wrong. The banks of this country were never in better shape to withstand any shock or strain.

T. B. PRESTON, first vice president, American Bankers' association—The volume of business for 1927 may not be as large as for 1926, but more people have shared in the prosperity. Tax reduction will greatly help business.

W. R. MOREHOUSE, Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles—Credit ease and the improved position of the farmer are factors likely to cause an increase in general business activity as the season advances.

Europeans Expect Boom.

FRED I. KENT, Bankers' Trust company, New York—There is a feeling in Europe that 1928 may be the most prosperous year for the United States that it has ever experienced.

L. E. PIERSON, American Exchange Irving Trust company, New York—Business generally is sound and favorable, in spite of a measure of recession. This recession in all probability will inject into the business situation a note of caution.

FRANCIS H. SISSON, Guaranty Trust company, New York—The conscious feature is the failure of autumn revival to measure up to expectations. On the whole, however, the situation holds no evident threat of prolonged or violent shrinkage in trade.

Presidential Year.

CHARLES A. HINSCH, Fifth-Third Union Trust company, Cincinnati, O.—We must bear in mind that 1928 will be presidential year and we may anticipate, therefore, that business will not move with the same degree of confidence that it would otherwise. I feel conservatively optimistic as to the balance of 1927 and 1928.

ROBERT E. MADDOX, Atlanta and Lowry National bank, Atlanta—The boll weevil has proved a blessing in disguise in forcing the farmer to diversity. We believe the south is entering upon its greatest prosperity.

WOMAN IN AUTO KILLED BY BOMB; AVENGERS SHOOT

Two Italians, taken into custody by the police at Benton Harbor, Mich., yesterday following a shotgun battle on the streets, asserted that they were trying to avenge the death of Mrs. Anthony Domingo, 37 years old, who was killed when a bomb was tossed into her automobile Saturday morning on a lonely road two miles north of the city.

The men are the widower and his brother, Charles Domingo. They asserted they were firing at Louis Viegla, another resident of Benton Harbor, whom they accused of killing the woman. Viegla is now being sought. The police believe that he was unhurt, although the brothers fired several charges at him.

Mrs. Domingo was on her way in an automobile, alone, to her farm when she was killed. The body, torn by the high explosive, was found a little later. The automobile was wrecked by the blast.

It was recalled that Domingo had been fined $1,000 for bootlegging activities less than a week ago. The authorities' theory was that a full investigation of the liquor angle would show the causes of the trouble between the Domingos and enemies in the same trade.

FOG AND MOTOR TROUBLE FORCE SHIP BACK AGAIN

Third Attempt of Grayson Plane in Failure.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Frances Grayson was forced to return to the beach here today after the third attempt she has made in one week to take off in her plane, the Dawn, on a trans-Atlantic flight to Denmark.

Her amphibian plane was 500 miles out at sea this time when engine trouble developed in the port side motor and the power dropped. Even then the crew thought of going on, but the weather was steadily thickening ahead and it was decided that to risk fighting a storm with a crippled ship would be foolhardy.

A fourth attempt may be made if the motor trouble can be located and repaired in time.

It was 6:12 o'clock this morning when the ship took off, 350 pounds lighter than yesterday when it was forced to dump gasoline and return because of overloading. It rapidly gained altitude and headed east.

Ten hours later it was back on the sand, the left side of the wings and body covered with a heavy coat of oil and the left motor scarcely turning over. Two hundred and sixty gallons of gasoline had been emptied from the two tanks to lighten the load placed on the one good engine.

Mrs. Grayson climbed from the window of her cockpit as the plane came to rest on the beach. She smiled ruefully and seemed half apologetic for her failure.

The pilot and the navigator, Brice Goldsborough, who sat on each side of her, professed to be fresh.

EARNING-THEIR-WAY YALE STUDENTS MADE $593,679 LAST YEAR

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Yale students earned $593,679 in the last year, according to the annual report by Albert B. Crawford, the director of the bureau of appointments. It represents the total actually earned by the third of the student body at Yale which is self-supporting, either in whole or in part.

Of the amount, $350,856 was earned while the university was in session. The rest, $242,823, was earned during the summer.

A total of 1,346 individuals received employment through the bureau of appointments and 5,473 positions were filled.

Street Bandit Is Shot Fleeing from Policeman

Caught fleeing from the scene of a holdup at Carpenter and Madison streets, an unidentified bandit was shot in the back early this morning when he refused to surrender at the command of Policeman Fred Ristau. With his partner, Policeman Peter Hogan, Ristau was touring the district in a station flivver when they sighted the man running. He was removed to the Bridewell hospital. Walter Byrnes, 1538 West Jackson boulevard, told Sergt. Martel Parker the man had just started to hold him up when he saw the police car rounding the corner.

New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Conditions in the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics have been grossly misrepresented to the remainder of the world, according to Jerome Davis, professor of practical philanthropy at Yale, who was among the speakers today at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden. Six thousand persons paid $1 each to hear speakers discuss the recent declaration of American labor unionists who toured Russia to learn at first hand how things were faring under a communist régime.

A resolution favoring recognition of Russia by the United States was adopted.

CAFE OWNERS UNITE TO AVERT PADLOCK DOOM

Yellowley's Advice in the New Crisis Sought.

Owners of seventeen leading night resorts of Chicago met in conference in the Congress hotel yesterday to devise ways and means of avoiding application of the padlock law to their places in view of the recent hip liquor decision of the Supreme court of the United States.

After discussing their problem for two hours, it was finally decided by the café men, headed by Fred Mann, proprietor of the Rainbo Garden, to seek advice of the highest authority in Chicago, E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator here.

A committee of three will arrange an appointment with Mr. Yellowley within the next day or two, it was announced. Mr. Mann is chairman and will be assisted by Herman Bock, owner of the Chez Pierre café, and Sam Wolf, owner of the Club Bagdad.

Investments in Peril.

"This latest decision has placed the investment of every café man in the city in jeopardy, even though he strive as he may to uphold the very letter of the law," it was declared by the spokesman of the conference, Al Tierney, whose resort, the Town club, in Wabash avenue, was padlocked by the government some time ago.

"It is the disposition of every man in this room to obey the law," said Tierney. "At the same time we wish to avoid offending patrons as much as possible. So we want to talk this whole thing over with Mr. Yellowley. We want any suggestion he can offer, any aid he can give us."

The conference may form the nucleus for a permanent organization of café men, it was hinted. As the meeting adjourned the plans for a get-together dinner on Nov. 21 at the Rainbo Gardens were being discussed. One of the chief purposes of organizing, it was admitted, is to raise funds for attorneys' fees.

Greatest Crisis.

"An emergency exists," the owner of one of the city's brighter spots asserted. "Our business is threatened, and in a manner that could leave us powerless to protect ourselves. This 'observation evidence' has forced the greatest crisis in the cabaret business since prohibition."

Prohibition officials have shown no intention as yet to obtain observation evidence through a widespread drive. Assistant Administrator Alexander Jamie said no special campaign is on foot because of the Supreme court decision.

May Padlock Train Coaches.

Receiving reports that the prohibition law is being flagrantly violated on trains, Mr. Jamie announced that the observation evidence may be extended to include Pullman coaches attached to crack transcontinental fliers. "Any railway coach in which passengers are caught drinking may be taken from service and padlocked for one year," declared Jamie.

Mr. Jamie said his informant was a disgruntled railroad employé, who, in an anonymous letter, declared little effort is being made by railroad employés to halt drinking on trains.

COST OF RUNNING U. S. GOVERNMENT SPEAKEASY TOLD

Agents Spent $44,886 on New York Club.

New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia today revealed an aftermath to the Bridge Whist club, the speakeasy operated by prohibition agents here last winter. He made public information received from Controller General J. R. McCarl that $44,886.37 was spent by the government agents in the venture, none of which was approved by the controller general.

Mr. La Guardia said responsibility for the expenditures rested with the United States disbursing officers, who had advanced the money from the government. All such officers are covered by bond, and it is possible, he said, that they will be obliged to make good the expenditures. Mr. La Guardia said there also was an item in excess of $4,000 for salary paid to Bruce Bielaski, undercover agent, which had been disallowed.

"These figures now confirm every single charge I made in congress as to the improper use of public funds," Mr. La Guardia said tonight.

The figures received by Mr. La Guardai from the controller general included an itemized list of part of the total sum. Included in the items are vests for the waiters and alpaca coats for the bartenders, purchased from Brooks Brothers; $95 for engraving and printing of membership cards, and an item for the analysis of specimens of liquor, in addition to the many items of ordinary expenses for such a venture, such as rent, furnishings, and contractor's work in getting the premises in shape. Many items for the purchase of liquor are included in the list.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD HEAD DEFIED BY RED CROSS

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Red Cross does not have to ask the commandant's permission to enter the Brooklyn navy yard in soliciting its annual "roll call" subscriptions, Nelson B. Nelson, chairman of the Brooklyn chapter of the Red Cross, declared today.

Nelson's statement was a rejoinder to Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, navy yard commandant, who has refused to sanction Red Cross officials soliciting funds from civilian employés at the yard. Admiral Plunkett explained that he considered such solicitation an "imposition" on the employés, who, he said, were paid less than persons doing similar work outside the yard. Admiral Plunkett left today for Washington, where, it is said, he will lay the matter before Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

He died before hospital attachés could reach him.

Mr. McGinley is survived by a son, James Jr., and three married daughters, Mrs. Margaret Partipillo, Mrs. Edith Hogan, and Mrs. Laura Larrabee. His wife died several years ago.

U. S. AIR MISHAPS CLAIM LIVES OF 7 PERSONS IN DAY

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Spectators at local airports today witnessed two fatal aviation accidents which claimed the lives of three men. W. F. Lessemann Jr., 21, a visitor from Charleston, S. C., fell 2,000 feet to his death when his parachute failed to open in his first jump from a plane. L. L. Brongman, 25, and C. M. Elting, 25, both mechanics, were killed when a rebuilt plane they were testing went into a tail spin at Clover field. J. A. Dary, 40, owner of the plane, suffered a fractured skull and numerous broken bones.

Two Burn to Death in Crash.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Don Sease and Carl Carr, both of Lincoln, airmen of scant experience in flying, were burned to death early tonight when their plane side slipped and crashed in a cemetery two miles south of the city limits as they were attempting to make a landing on the Lincoln Aircraft field, not far away.

Observers said the plane burst into flames the instant it landed.

Passenger Dies; Pilot Escapes.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Bernard Albright, 20, of Detroit was killed tonight when an airplane in which he was riding as a passenger crashed near here. The pilot, Hollis Woodworth, escaped with slight injuries. Aviation officials said Woodworth had no flying license, had made only a few solo flights and had taken the plane aloft without permission.

Parachute Fails to Open.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Kenneth Davis, a student flyer at Tichard's field here, was killed this afternoon when his parachute failed to open after he had leaped from the plane at an altitude of 2,600 feet. Davis jumped from the plane in a contest with another man to see who would land first.

Boy and Girl Flyers Hurt.

Governor Makes Solo Flight.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Gov. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut made his first solo flight today. He made three separate flights and was in the air nearly half an hour. He successfully maneuvered the plane through many "figure eights" and through a number of glides and banks in a manner to do credit to an experienced aviator, his instructor, Lieut. H. Copeland, said tonight.

WOMAN DOCTOR DEMANDS COATH MAKE APOLOGY

Dr. Anna L. Dwyer, who was characterized as a "social derelict" by President J. Lewis Coath of the school board on Saturday when he announced that she would be dismissed as medical examiner for the Normal school, will demand this morning a "generous retraction" from her accuser through her attorney, William A. Doyle, master in chancery of the Circuit court, the lawyer announced yesterday.

"Unless Mr. Coath justifies his defamatory remarks or makes a generous retraction" Mr. Doyle said, "we will have recourse to the criminal and civil libel laws." Dr. Dwyer said she had retained Mr. Doyle after she had called on Mr. Coath to apologize and he had refused.

Dr. Dwyer was one of six major school heads scheduled for dismissal in Mr. Coath's announcement. "These major generals will go," Coath is reported to have said, "they are social derelicts and have been incompetent for years."

FIND EXPLORER IN JUNGLE, WASTED BY TROPIC FEVER

Engineer's Party Told Aid of Fawcett Is Dead.

News of Col. P. H. Fawcett, British explorer, last heard from directly nearly two years ago in the interior of Brazil, was received from Roger Courteville, Brazilian engineer and explorer, who reached Lima, Peru, recently after crossing the South American continent in a motor car. Nine months ago Courteville met a fever-stricken white man in the wilderness about 100 miles from Cuyaba, the capital of Matto Grosso, Brazil, who he believes was Col. Fawcett. The engineer's story is printed below.

BY ROGER COURTEVILLE.

[Copyright: 1927: By the New York Times.]

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 23.—I arrived here on crossing the South American continent from Rio de Janeiro by way of Cuyaba and La Paz with my wife and a mechanic in a six wheeled motor car carrying a weight of 11,000 pounds. The distance was 5,100 miles and the journey took us 11 months and one day.

After two month's travel from Rio de Janeiro we reached the Red river. This river is 300 yards wide. The crossing necessitated a journey of 6 miles to the north to find the Bororos Indian village.

While we were planning to cross the river, two Indians appeared in a canoe. I called to them to approach. They showed great interest in the motor car. I explained by signs that I desired to cross the river and hoped to obtain the help of many canoemen. They requested me to board their canoe and accompany them north.

Indian Tells of Whites.

We arrived after an hour at a spot bare of vegetation, and the Indian paddling in front made signs from which I understood that two white men coming from a northerly direction drank here. I placed little importance on the information at the time, as I knew nothing of Fawcett's expedition.

After crossing the river we continued in the direction of Rio Casta. After a few hours I met a man sitting in a small wood on the right. His head was between his hands. He appeared exhausted. By his side lay a wide-brimmed hat, dirty and torn.

Surprised to see a fellow being in such a lonely spot and strange attitude, I pulled up near him intending to fill my radiator. While the mechanic was filling it I approached the stranger, a gray haired man who appeared to be about 60 years old. He was wearing shorts [short pants], a khaki shirt and old thick-soled shoes which were tied to his stockingless feet by the fibers of swamp plants. His hands were shaking with fever. The spot where I found him I would calculate by my speedometer to be 100 miles from Cuyaba.

I asked him in Portuguese if he knew the way to Cuyaba. He seemed to hear, but did not answer. I saw that his legs were terribly bitten by mosquitoes. I shouted in English: "I say, man, the mosquitoes seem to take care of you."

Marked by Fever and Hardship.

He stiffly raised his head, his face showing the marks of exhaustion, fever and privation. His eyes were the most energetic part about him. I received the impression that he was an ex-soldier.

Apparently resenting interference, he replied in a tone suggesting a desire to terminate the conversation: "These poor animals are hungry, too."

I then proceeded toward Cuyaba. At Cuyaba I spoke to a friend in a government position, asking if any English or American concern operated near my meeting place with this foreigner. He replied that this was probably Fawcett.

He said that the man once appeared at Cuyaba with two young companions and visited the state president at Matto Grosso. He obtained a government subvention of sixty contos, about $10,000, for an expedition to find a mysterious city situated northwest in Diamantino.

Hunted Ancient City.

The story of the existence of the city is based on an Indian legend that God put two brothers on earth and that one went west and founded the Inca tribes, while the other stayed in the center of Matto Grosso, where, at the order of God to build a capital he made a city appear from the earth with houses whose walls were of gold and roofs of diamonds.

Fawcett based the hopes of his expedition on these suppositions and went towards Fazendobaixiri and Rio Xingu. Raleigh Rimmel, one of the explorers, took septicemia and Fawcett's son got malaria at Xingu. One of them came back by way of the Red river to cure himself. An Indian appeared at Parecis, an Indian village, and said one of the white men had died. This man is supposed to have been Rimmel.

I am going to Rio de Janeiro to organize a rescue party.

Ettelson Shuns Connection with City Gas Suit Appeal

Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson yesterday called attention to the fact that neither he nor his office had at any time any connection with the appeal of the city's suit for a $10,000,000 refund from the People's Gas Light and Coke company which resulted in a ruling Saturday by the state Supreme court adverse to the city. Donald R. Richberg was special gas attorney for the city in the litigation and he perfected the appeal to the Supreme court before his resignation last April, Mr. Ettelson pointed out. Thus, Mr. Ettelson was not called upon to handle any of the litigation since he took office.

BERLIN ACCLAIMS FRENCH ACE WHO DEFEATS GERMAN

Flyer Made "King of Air" for His Victory.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The French ace, Marcel Doret, won the title of "king of the air" in a spectacular aerial acrobatics contest with the German aviator, Gehrhardt Fissler at Tempelhof airdrome in Berlin today.

The Frenchman won handsomely, his superior dash, amounting to magnificent recklessness, being evident from the start. The judges, crack Swiss, Czecho-Slovak and Dutch flyers, gave him a unanimous verdict, upon which the band struck up the Marseillaise for the first time it has been played officially and publicly in Berlin since the war. The French tricolor was run up the flagstaff.

Prince Is Spectator.

More than 100,000 persons were present, including the former crown prince, who, garbed in a sport suit, listened attentively to Herr Udet, whose flying pupil he was, and also to Thea Racahe, the German girl flyer, as they explained the details of the flights. During the last flight the prince said to Herr Udet, "The Frenchman is going to win. You must bring back this honor to Germany. Challenge him."

Herr Udet thereupon challenged the victor to a new aerial acrobatic combat, which probably will be held in Paris.

M. Doret used a French army de Voitin 300 horsepower monoplane, but the competitors exchanged planes for half of the time.

Ruth Elder in Madeira.

FUNCHAL, Madeira Island, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The steamship Lima, carrying Ruth Elder, American ocean flyer, and her co-pilot, George W. Haldeman, arrived here this morning. The flyers will proceed on the Lima to Lisbon.

The Lima docked at 7 a. m. and Miss Elder disembarked three hours later. Although she was in good spirits, she said she was tired of being on the ship and longs to fly again.

Journalists, who made a risky trip in small boats to the Azores and returned to Funchal on the Lima, were unsuccessful in getting Miss Elder to talk of her interrupted flight across the Atlantic. They even offered her a champagne luncheon aboard the boat, but she refused to talk of her flight or grant the newspaper men an interview.

When the Lima docked the American consul went aboard and made several attempts to draw Miss Elder into an interview, which she flatly refused. The Lima is expected to arrive at Lisbon on Tuesday.

FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL ROOM.

VOICES BETRAY ROBBERS; WOMAN IDENTIFIES THEM

Harry Beilfus, 28, and Joseph Hamlin, 29, both of 6004 South Lincoln street, made a mistake Saturday night when they carried on a conversation while holding up Miss Anita Boyle, 5437 South Marshfield avenue, and her escort, Chapley King, 1011 East 42d street. Miss Boyle is a voice specialist for the Illinois Bell Telephone company and recognized the two at once yesterday when they were made to state their names at the weekly police show-up at the Des Plaines street station.

Fifteen others were identified as hold-up men as the victims of 225 robberies viewed 250 suspects who were paraded before them at the station. Several of these were members of the notorious gang of street gamins known as the "42 gang," who gather in the neighborhood of Taylor and Halsted streets.

FRENCH WOMEN HELD CAPTIVE BY MOUNTAIN CHIEF

Fear Moorish Kidnapers Will Kill Them.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Oct. 23.—[illegible] Steeg and Jean Maillet, nephews of Theodore Steeg, the French resident general of Morocco, and their women friends, Mme. Prokoruff and Baroness Steinheil, who were kidnaped by dissident Arabs, while hunting in the Atlas mountains, are being held captive by Moha Ou Said Bengrda, a powerful mountain chieftain, according to reports of native emissaries sent out by Col. Ducat, chief of the French intelligence service.

Military authorities are making every effort to get in touch with the captives, but are fearful they will endanger the lives of the four prisoners if they use force.

While the outrage is believed to be an isolated act of banditry carried out in the hope of obtaining heavy ransoms, reports today describe the situation in the Atlas region as serious. At a conference of the tribes two sheiks who advocated submission to the French were murdered by irreconcilables, and others were forced to flee for their lives. The French are taking important military measures to meet the new menace to peace in Morocco.

SUNDAY EVENING CLUB SUPPORT OF Y. W. C. A. URGED

The Sunday Evening club at Orchestra hall last evening was urged in a double program to support the $200,000 drive of the Y. W. C. A. During the first hour David R. Forgan and Miss Anne Guthrie described the need of the campaign and the address at 8 o'clock was delivered by Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin, president of Union Theological seminary, New York.

"If you lived in a small town and had a daughter go to the big city to make her way," said Mr. Forgan, "you would want to know where she was going to live, whether she would be warm and comfortable and whether she could live within her income.

"The Y. W. C. A. answers all these questions. It has helped 400,000 girls and such an institution is worthy of help."

MANY POLICE AND RIOTERS HURT IN THEATER FIGHTS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Many police and scores of anti-Semite demonstrators were injured in clashes at the last two performances of the historical drama, "High Lady, or Maria Theresa," at the National theater. Last night a medical student lost two fingers by a sword slash.

Many Know

By NORMA SHEARER

THERE is no harm in rouge and powder, make-up of any kind, beauty experts today agree.

But never fail to take them off each night at bedtime if you would avoid clogged pores and blackheads, other imperfections.

That schoolgirl complexion comes from one simple but important rule. And millions follow it each night in gaining clear and radiant skins.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

But be sure you get the real Palmolive. A soap made solely for one purpose: to safeguard your skin. Sixty years of soap study stand behind it.

Get 10c Palmolive now. Use no other on your face. Experimenting with unproved soaps is a folly. Good complexions are too priceless for that. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

REUNION OF FIRST DIVISION ENDS; VETS LINGER ON

The reunion of the First division, A. E. F., commemorating the tenth anniversary of the division's initial contact with the German army in France, passed into the annals of the division society yesterday with the departure of Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall and other visiting leaders.

The reunion proved to be a complete success from all standpoints in the opinion of officers and men and Sergt. Edward H. McGuire, who had charge of reception, said that the attendance was well over 1,000.

The veterans who for the most part intended leaving yesterday for homes in various parts of the country, were still present in force last night at headquarters, and many individual reunions were scheduled to continue until today.

Gen. Summerall left for Milwaukee shortly after noon yesterday, where he was scheduled to make an address. It had been suggested that he make a visit to the various hospitals in which wounded and disabled veterans of the division are cared for. The general was insistent upon doing so, but those in charge of local arrangements found that the journey necessary to visit all the hospitals involved so much travel that it was decided impractical.

Before the society's reunion finally disbanded Sergt. McGuire made the announcement that the Illinois branch of the society would hold its annual gathering on Armistice day in Chicago.

Burley's Announce

7 north Wabash

Burley's will move to new quarters early in 1928, due to the expiration of our lease. Transferring our stock would be both costly and precarious because of the nature of the merchandise. Therefore, we have decided to do a startling thing. In order that we shall have to move as little merchandise as possible, we are sacrificing our stock ruthlessly in a great REMOVAL SALE right in the heart of the holiday shopping season. The prices which we will name during the REMOVAL SALE will make it an event absolutely without precedent in Chicago merchandising. Never have wares such as ours been so startlingly sacrificed; never has such a treat been offered to holiday shoppers!

Every piece of merchandise in the store (excepting Cowan Pottery and Dirigold) will bear a minimum discount of 20%, often much more. There will be frequent cases where goods will actually be offered at less than cost. Open-stock patterns in china and crystal as well as huge shipments of new merchandise already under order for autumn and pre-holiday delivery, will share in these sweeping discounts.

This announcement means that tens of thousands of gorgeous things, such as only Burley's know how to obtain, will be available for Christmas gifts at prices little short of fabulous. China, queensware, crystal stemware, ornamental crystal and glass, pottery, bronzes, antiques, leather goods, personal accessories, lamps, and small furnishings—all are to be offered at prices within reach of everyone who likes nice things.

AN UN-AMERICAN EFFORT TO CREATE CIVIL DISCORD.

The world war had been over but a few weeks and the treaty of Versailles was not yet signed when THE TRIBUNE assumed what it took to be its duty—the task of helping toward a new American nationalism. In the years that have followed we have continued the effort. To us it has seemed the patriotic course to advise against internationalism, to advocate a new preparedness, to counsel a restricted immigration, to urge a rededication to the principles of Washington and Jefferson. Our aim has been to assist in building a new union of peoples whose old inbred allegiances had been scarified and quickened by the conflict across the Atlantic, and who, shocked by the war's brutality, had been tempted into believing that utopian dreams of world peace could be won by sentimental alliances.

It has been our self-appointed task to maintain the denunciation of hyphenism, to point out that the hyphenism of the war, which was directed at certain peoples, applied even more definitely and to all peoples now that peace had come. We have stood for America as a country for Americans, not as a battle field on which factions of conflicting old world sympathies might fight out their differences.

So this hurrah and hullabaloo that is being raised now about King George is not at all a new topic.

But its fault is that it is only part of the story and about 75 per cent of it is buncombe and, worse than that—falsity.

We ourselves have denounced the American complex of inferiority to all things made in Great Britain. We have mocked and deplored the Anglomaniac colonialism of certain sections of our people. But we have been impartial about it and we have done so with motives of patriotism which we think our war record will substantiate.

What those who prosecute the "text book case" seek to do is as unpatriotic, as un-American, as to preach disunion. It is an attempt not to settle old strifes but to stir them up by arousing the ancient antagonisms of unassimilated immigrant peoples. It is an incitement to civil discord.

What might have been an earnest effort to open a question that admittedly needs discussion and wise settlement has been turned by false appeals to unpatriotic emotionalism into a cheap burlesque show.

There is reason, we repeat, why our relations with England should be examined, natural enough though it is that a country nearly half of whose population is of colonial ancestry should feel kindly toward the older nation from whom it drew its language, its legal framework, the chief of its political principles and institutions, and most of its social customs and standards.

But that does not signify that these relations should be examined in a manner fit merely to furnish a holiday spectacle for those of other descent, especially those whose own relations with the countries of their ancestry are themselves equally in need of inspection.

Out of it all, here in Chicago, comes a new monkey trial. They held one down in Tennessee and the power of the state lined itself up on the side of ignorance and intolerance. We are having one here in Chicago and the power of the city is lining itself up on the side of blah and buncombe.

In Chicago they get in a judge out of a job to put on his act against the Court of St. James. What did it amount to? Mr. Bausman offered not one item of proof of his charges. He contributed nothing new. He did nothing to make what might have been a serious topic less ridiculous. If those who are prosecuting King George look to win fame such as was won by the Tennessee case it is time they eliminated the buffoonery.

In a case where something sensible is to be said they have handed out nonsense. They cannot live on slapstick. People get tired of custard pie. That a certain amount of British propaganda for the cancellation of the international debts is being spread in America we believe. So also is propaganda for the cancellation of the French debt, for Italian fascism, for decreasing the amount of German reparations, and for recognizing Russia. We also recollect a movement, that still exists, by the way, for the support of Irish freedom. Let America be warned, but reasonably and intelligently, and about all sources and forms of propaganda, not just one.

That the British campaign of propaganda or any other campaign of propaganda is being financed wholesale from abroad is absurd. Europe lacks the money to spare. Mr. Bausman did not show one instance where British money had been spent in a conscious effort to influence America.

As for Mr. Bausman's oratorical fancies about the desire of Great Britain to replace the Stars and Stripes with the Union Jack, that is a piece of the sort of tall talk which seems to flourish so luxuriantly on the Pacific coast.

What is also common knowledge, but what is wilfully hidden by the tin knights battling King George, is the existence in this country of organized societies seeking to establish other foreign nations in the affections of the American people. There are German clubs, and Irish orders, and Polish alliances, and Italian fascist unions. And they not only work to maintain an old world consciousness among their members but they also encourage foreign tongues.

Let there be as much criticism of unpatriotic sentiment for England, or Germany, or France, or Italy, or Poland, as the case warrants. It is the right of every American to speak his mind. But let his mind be spoken as an American and for the sake of America, not as a German, or an Irishman, or an Italian, or an Englishman and for the sake of a foreign country.

SMOKE SCREENS AND BUNK.

So dense has the smoke screen of buncombe become in Mayor Thompson's ludicrous war against King George V.—or is it King George III.?—of England that the serious and dangerous attack on the key salient is likely to be lost to and forgotten by the public.

The danger point to the people of Chicago is in the board rooms of the department of education, where, under the guise of trying Supt. McAndrew for insubordination, the attempt is being made to sell out the school children in the interests of spoils politics.

Chicago can live down the shame of being made the laughing stock of America and the world. Common sense and American neighborliness will cure the ill feelings aroused in this campaign to set foreign and unpatriotic allegiances at one another's throats. But the effects of the cheap political attack on the school system will long persist. Resilient as youth is, the generation now in the Chicago schools cannot help but be marked by being made the victims of demagogic barter and trade.

The city is seeing a structure that was rescued from inefficiency and corruption under the former Thompson administration, that was being built into something modern, efficient, and honest—it is seeing this structure being torn down to furnish a holiday for selfish officeholders and jobseekers. The city is seeing one of the best superintendents it has ever had being pilloried because he stood in the way of greed and spoliation.

The attack on the schools is the real attack in this great battle of buncombe. It is in defense of the schools that the citizens of Chicago, parents of children and payers of taxes, should muster their strongest forces.

Next in importance—could we believe that it is being made with any serious intent—is the crudely advertised attempt to censor the books in the Chicago public library. To try to think of what has been proposed is to be overwhelmed at the colossal imbecility of minds which could conceive such a plan. The effrontery of it would be beyond comprehension were it not that Chicago has been taught in the past to be astounded at nothing that is impudent or silly or false or—especially—sheer bunk.

The Chicago public library contains nearly two million volumes. It is proposed that all these shall be investigated for pro-British sentiments. The gentleman who is to do it is "Sport" Herrmann. And if he finds a pro-British book, he declares, he will take it out on the lake front and have it burned by the public hangman.

Was ever anything quite so preposterous suggested to a presumably intelligent community? What use is there to reply to such a proposition with questions about the right of the individual to liberty of thought and action? What use is there to ask how a man can support the liberty of the individual as to prohibition and then suggest censorship of a kind that has never occurred even to the intolerant minds of Boston blue stockings? What use to ask Mr. "Sport" Herrmann whether he would approve of a censor coming into his theater and carting his scenery off to a lake front bonfire?

What use? There isn't any. You cannot argue with a bunk artist.

RECEIVERS FOR NATIONS.

Seymour Gilbert, an American, the agent general for reparations in Germany, is reported to have warned the German government against raising the salaries of its employés. In the face of the warning the German finance minister has approved a recommendation for salary increases of 17 per cent, a total increase in the German budget, it is estimated, of $200,000,000. Mr. Gilbert holds office by virtue of the Dawes plan, to which Germany agreed.

Germany's apparent disregard of Mr. Gilbert's warning will be hailed in some quarters as evidence of bad faith. Such a charge is at least premature, so long as Germany has not defaulted on any of the scheduled payments. More than that, a charge of bad faith in this instance is in itself an evidence of political naïveté. It was hardly to be expected that a nation of Germany's position in the world would continue indefinitely to accept dictation on matters of domestic concern from a foreigner representing foreigners. No German government could live which made such a surrender of initiative, and no government, we believe, could live in any other democratic country under similar circumstances. National pride would vote it out of existence at the first opportunity and take a chance on the consequences.

The foreign regulator of the budget is an ingenious device for establishing credit, and it is likely to succeed as long as the government and people being regulated are profiting from the arrangement. The mere fact that an American, an Englishman or a Swiss is given the power to veto appropriations is, however, no assurance that the power will not be overridden at an opportune moment. Americans invited to lend money to a foreign government on the assurance that the borrower's budgets are to be regulated by a representative of the lenders will accept the guarantee with considerable reserve. Political expediency sheltered behind national pride can speedily reduce the value of that guarantee to the vanishing point.

A NATIONAL ENTERPRISE.

[Fremont (Neb.) Tribune.]

At the time, a few weeks ago, that the Grand Army of the Republic, an organization of Union veterans of the civil war, rejected a proposal for a joint reunion in 1928 of the surviving veterans of both north and south, it was the general impression that this was the last word in the matter.

But we are learning now that advancing years have not impaired the fighting abilities of those veterans who have been fostering the joint reunion idea. Inspired by a great and patriotic vision, they have refused to quit fighting, even in the face of apparent defeat.

It is not improbable that the suggestion will be made in the next congress for the adoption of the proposed 1928 joint reunion of the Blue and the Gray in Washington as a national enterprise, for an appropriation of public funds to defray the expenses of travel and sustenance for the veterans themselves.

We would not expect to hear so much as a whisper of public protest against such an appropriation and use of public money.

CHILDREN'S APPETITES; LET 'EM "JES' GROW."

A GROUP of fathers engaged in casual conversation, and therefore jumping about from subject to subject, like goats on a rock pile, happened to hit on the appetites of children as a matter for casual discussion. Several of them said their children were short on appetites. Their problem was to get their children to eat enough.

Many mothers will give these dads the ha! ha! What do fathers know about children, anyhow? On the other hand, many women will say the dads know their onions and they will prove it by telling the story of their Mary. As a matter of fact, all these people on both sides were opening the windows to their homes and permitting the listeners to look in.

There are children who are without appetite because of sickness, but in the case of the great majority the trouble is with the training. The great bulk of such children need to be returned to the basis of Topsy, who "jes' growed."

The subject is not unimportant. One section of the American Medical association spent an hour or more discussing it last summer. Nine learned doctors, some of them great, long haired, bespectacled professors, discussed the subject, and they all agreed substantially. Will wonders never cease?

Dr. Aldrich started the thing off. In substance, he was against overfeeding, teasing children to eat, punishing them for not eating, paying them for eating, giving them set amounts to eat and requiring them to eat those amounts, feeding between meals, feeding children with colds or other illness who did not want to eat. He was in favor of having the child play enough to get up a good appetite, of giving him plenty of good food, of having a good, happy, easy, free time for everybody at table and then letting the youngster eat in peace. If he ate, all right; if he didn't, all right. But no beefing and nagging under any circumstances.

While some foods were better for children than others, he was opposed to any direct methods for promoting the use of the one or for opposing the use of the other.

In order to make the weaning of the baby easy he begins giving an occasional bottle or an occasional spoonful of food to young babies. For the same reason he begins giving orange juice and a little cod liver oil in very early babyhood. He begins the use of cereals very gradually. Likewise, the use of soups and vegetables. He is opposed to sudden changes of diet and, above all, those put over by compulsion. In feeding older children he uses no high power stuff. His principle is "Let appetite be your guide." Food is never forced. If the child has a fever, or a cold, or a pain, he is not coaxed or cajoled to eat. As to food between meals he dismissed the subject by saying: "This was not advised for any child."

Then the discussion opened. Every doctor agreed that the fault was generally with the parents or the nurse. The remedy lay in educational prophylaxis, which means, in persuading parents to let their children alone, to uneducate themselves on calories, food values, vitamins and such; to let their children live more naturally, to play harder, to think less of and about themselves, and then to eat as nature directs; to let them "jes' grow."

NO FEAR OF TUMOR.

A. C. writes: This summer I underwent an hysterectomy for removal of fibroid tumor. Looking back, it seems to me that I feared in anticipation so much that did not happen that I thought you might write reassuringly on this sort of thing for other women. A lot of silly old wives' tales, as I now believe they were, led me to believe that this operation was particularly disastrous to the nervous system—that depression and mental disturbance were inevitable. I am sure I might have been spared a great deal of unhappiness before the operation, and perhaps after it, if I had been told what the facts actually were.

If I am correct, and one need not fear after such operations as this any more than the usual shock that must follow any operation, I think you would do a great deal of good to base one of your articles on this.

A FORM OF PERJURY.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—When one of two parties contracting a marriage swore falsehoods, like swearing that she had never been married before, when, in fact, she had, does that constitute fraud and therefore make the marriage void? 2. If so, what should the other party do to obtain an annulment of such marriage, and how much would the cost be? They were married at Crown Point.

A. R. C.

1. It might amount to perjury such as to subject him to prosecution, but the mere fact of falsehood would not invalidate the marriage. If one of the parties at the time of the marriage had a spouse still living and undivorced that fact would invalidate the subsequent marriage regardless of what was said about it.

2. If your facts justify annulment, as above stated, you should employ an attorney.

STRATEGY.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Our lease expired Sept. 30, 1927, and about a month prior to that time we received a letter from the agent who manages the property that the rent for the ensuing year would be $52.50, but upon receipt of the lease it was made out for $57.50 per month, with a typewritten clause inserted to the effect that "if rent was paid on or before the 7th day of each month allowance of $5 would be made on the rent," this, then, making it $52.50.

I should like to know if the rent was not paid before the 7th of the month if they could hold us for the $57.50, inasmuch as we have a letter stating the rent would be $52.50.

J. F. H.

We incline to the opinion that the courts would regard this clause as a penalty and would refuse to enforce the penalty except if actual damages could be proved.

AUTUMN.

I sat drowsing in the October sun. Somewhere there was a girl—somewhere there must be a girl. She would not have hair like the hard brilliance of black. Black is beautiful only when snow-flurries thrust against naked trees. She would not have cold hair of white honey. Only summer and careless days can become alive with a cool girl's hair.

This thing Autumn. It is so confounding, so complex. One might understand Winter, if one did not dislike it so much. And Spring is inevitable, like marriage and children and Christmas. Summer needs no understanding. But Autumn is unearthly, too beautiful to be real. One dies, a bit, in Autumn.

Do not send your son to war in Autumn. May a poet and philosopher kill? Why should one die for one's country in Autumn, when one may die for the beauty of an October sun?

The girl? Maple leaves, after the sun has hushed them, shall be like her hair. Her eyes tawny, golden. I must name her . . . something drowsy and confounding: Toniel. Some day I shall forget her . . . would you have me always living an October day? It is not that I have not known many things . . . but that I have wanted so few.

WE TOOK yesterday afternoon off, being as today is Contributors' Day, and, besides, we always desert the old desk back in the city editor's room whenever Conchi gives a concert. That happened yesterday, and when we should have been scrapping with Hank down in the composing room, or opening letters, or reading exchanges, we were listening to the incomparable Conchi do his stuff. And if he didn't sing "Road to Vaux," "Alchemy," "Sell Me a Dream," and "She's a Winsome Wee Thing," you'll find the story on the first page under the scarehead——

Dick: Let's tell our disgruntled clientele the lowdown truth about Hank laughing himself to death almost when he glued his optics on the new Linebook cover. Tell them, Dick, that the much talked of Linebook cover depicts you sitting sternly in the saddle on John Barrymore, the male king of beasts, in front of the Art institute, clad in the armor of a knight of old, with upright spear ensconced in your stirrup, and giving orders to the Great Booleowsky as to how to adjust a red Mother Hubbard on the fractious Louise Fazenda, the female of the species, who is rarin' to go on the opposite pedestal. 65 YEARS AGO TODAY

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky.—Reluctant as a man who loves his country and hates Bragg must be to admit the shameful fact, it must be recorded that the campaign is ended, that Bragg has succeeded in outwitting Buell and escaping with all his spoils and glory to the mountain fastnesses where he can forever successfully oppose us. Bragg is a success! Buell is a failure—a contemptible failure, and contemptible from the very fact that his own indecision has proved his worst enemy and has saved Bragg from annihilation.

BALTIMORE.—Rumors that the rebels are leaving Winchester are known to be unfounded, and fresh troops are being sent there from Richmond daily. The rebels are massing their troops in the Shenandoah valley, and have occupied the whole line of the Baltimore and Ohio from Harper's Ferry to Paxton Cut. The rebels feel safe between Martinsburg and Winchester so long as the water in the Potomac is low and the river is easily fordable. Gen. McClellan is thus compelled to keep his army scattered along the river a distance of thirty miles. It is evidently impossible for him to move against the enemy in force. Should he attempt to mass his army the rebels would again cross into Maryland above him and return to Virginia before he could reach them. So, as soon as we have rain enough to raise the river no doubt the commanders of both armies will move.

ST. LOUIS.—A plan is on foot to memorialize the President on the reopening of the Mississippi. Permits have been refused here for the shipment of $30,000 worth of whisky to Memphis. Among other applicants was a staff officer of Gen. Grant who had a permit to ship about 750 barrels. Gen. Curtis refused to sanction the shipment.

NEW YORK.—"As a thank offering to Almighty God for the preservation of his family and household on the occasion of the destruction by fire of his country home at Pocantico Hills, N. Y., on the night of Sept. 17, 1902," John D. Rockefeller has promised to give $500,000 to Teachers' college of Columbia university.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt, is not betrothed to Capt. John Greenway of Hot Springs, Ark., the story from the west to this effect being emphatically and positively denied by those in position to know.

CHICAGO.—John Hertz, manager of Benny Yanger, wired to Chicago that Kid Carter, who is to box Jack Root at the America Athletic club Monday night, will leave for this city Monday morning. Hertz also advises that Young Corbett has signed articles to box Jack O'Keefe here on Nov. 17.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 24, 1917.

PARIS.—In one of the swiftest and most dashing blows of the war French troops smashed through the German lines north of the Aisne to a depth of two and one-fifth miles at one point, inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, and captured more than 7,500 prisoners, twenty-five heavy guns and field guns and an enormous amount of war material. The powerful German strongholds of Allemant, Vaudesson, La Malmaison fort, and Chavignon, the mainstays of the line protecting Laon, were captured.

WASHINGTON. — The first great battle of the war with Germany will be fought tomorrow — Liberty day — on American soil. Tomorrow the American people will proclaim by the volume of their subscriptions to the second Liberty loan whether they are in this war heart and soul or are reluctant to lend their savings on the best security in the world to back up the men about to do battle in France. President Wilson has proclaimed the day Liberty day and ordered all government offices to close at noon. Governors of states have followed his example. Liberty bonfires were burned tonight in almost every city and hamlet in the nation.

CHICAGO. — Ticket scalpers won a big victory in the Illinois Supreme court by a decision that the city ordinance of 1915 is unconstitutional.

PROF. DODD ON PROPAGANDA.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Last Friday I broke a rule of ten years and made a statement to a very attractive TRIBUNE correspondent. I said the present inquisition of Superintendent McAndrew was absurd and that the Chicago school books were the best Chicago children have ever had. Next day the report made me say the books were perfect; well, that is too much, even for Chicago.

Any one who will take the trouble to examine the school books of twenty years ago will see at once that the present texts are greatly to be preferred. They allow the possibility of some intelligence and some sense of humor in students and teachers, which is more than the inquisitors of Mr. McAndrew seem willing to allow anybody.

As to propaganda, when has there ever been a day when it did not abound? Any teacher is the victim of propaganda almost daily. He is positively flattered by the attentions of the banking houses supposing he can buy bonds. The advocates of the league of nations beg him to press that case when there is an opportunity, but the league is, I believe, an American creation. Certain British influences bring persuasive arguments to bear now and then and Mr. Hearst lends his support. And all true Germans, on this or the other side of the Atlantic, urge you to believe that the kaiser and the grand military staff were innocent as babes of the great war. The Irish never let you forget the "perfidy" of Great Britain and remind you, "on the side," that the Irish won the American revolution. The army and navy people keep propaganda going all the while, THE TRIBUNE being a hearty coadjutor, not to mention the Grand Army and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

It's a busy time the teacher has of it; but that is his job, handsomely paid for. If he is not clever enough to assess propaganda, he is not fit to teach the young; if he does not know how to handle a text that jeers George Washington and cheers poor old George III., half crazy at best, then the thing to do is to get another teacher, not waste the school funds starting a presidential campaign about George V., the most innocent ruler of our time. I doubt whether even the most indigent American politician would take his job gratis. Who pays for all this row about McAndrew?

A GENEROUS OFFER.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—I notice in the paper that a machine has been invented "that outdoes brains." I want to be the first one to subscribe to a fund to buy or purchase the right to use these machines, and am sure I can place quite a number to advantage in the city hall.

A POWERFUL WITNESS.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Mayor Thompson's star witness in the trial of Mr. McAndrew—beg pardon, of King George of England—has, somehow, been sadly missing. Still, there is time to make amends. Call "The Master of Doorn" to the stand!

A. B. MACKINTOSH.

A LESSON FROM HISTORY.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—While Mayor Thompson is "cleansing" the school books and the library of all pro-British ideas, he should remember what the colonies did when King George III. tried to tell them what to think and what not to [illegible] America has always stood for [illegible] At the rate Thompson is going I [illegible] expecting to see a picture of him [illegible] down the cherry tree in the books.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Isn't it about [illegible] all this anti-British talk was [illegible] As an American citizen, a frequent [illegible]itor to England, I for one resent [illegible] am ashamed that such nonsense [illegible] on. I've come to the conclusion that Chicago is being run solely for [illegible] Polish, and Irish immigrants.

I only wish from observation that [illegible] had the type of men in our public [illegible] they have in England. They are [illegible] for their brains and at least have [illegible]nity.

There are a great many men like [illegible]self who have to go to England on [illegible]ness, and we really get to know the [illegible]ple there and cannot help but like [illegible] Cannot all this harsh talk and [illegible] discontinued? Cannot we poor American citizens be proud of Chicago again?

SUBVERSIVE SENTIMEN[illegible]

Chicago, Oct. 20.—I was born [illegible] brought up in Ireland, but spent [illegible] years in Canada and actually spent [illegible] time on vacation in England. I have applied for my citizenship papers in [illegible] country, but have been known to express some very outrageous opinions; for [illegible]stance, that the average Englishman [illegible] a pretty good sort of fellow, George [illegible] likewise.

Do you think there is any danger of [illegible] being sent to jail and eventually [illegible] as a spy? Somebody told me Mr. Thompson is going after all us fellows [illegible] might have us all shot. If this is [illegible] please let me know and I will leave [illegible]

THE FUNNIES.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Of the many [illegible]tions which meet with the hearty [illegible]ciation of the average Englishman [illegible] country, your brilliantly clever [illegible] papers, be they farcical "strips" [illegible]ical cartoons, are not the least [illegible] But I can imagine the sales of [illegible] expensive humorous journals [illegible] somewhat while one can buy [illegible] of the McAndrew trial for two [illegible] to the Britisher, and, I think, [illegible] Americans, the daily account [illegible] of hilarity at the breakfast [illegible]

Surely it must have been [illegible] man who, at a performance of [illegible] Pinafore," turned to his neighbor [illegible] conclusion of the mock-patriotic [illegible] "For He's an Englishman" [illegible] sneered, "Huh! Modest, I [illegible]

JAPAN SHROUDS NAVY MANEUVERS IN DEEP SECRECY

Reported to Have World's Biggest Submarines.

BY RODERICK MATHESON.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, Oct. 23.—Unaccountable secrecy surrounds Japan's grand naval maneuvers now taking place, with the emperor looking on. The entire fleet is participating, with 200 airplanes in one section operating from the Kiushiu island base and endeavoring to capture Yokohama bay. The maneuvers will continue throughout the week, culminating in a grand review off Yokosuka next Sunday.

Requests by newspaper correspondents to witness the review were refused by the navy department. The Japanese recently added a number of super-submarines to their fleet, the presence of which in the maneuvers may account for the shroud of secrecy.

Biggest Submarine in World.

A foreign naval expert who watched the surface operations of one new submarine earlier this month, described the craft as the biggest in the world.

The recent naval secrecy is causing comment among naval attaches and other foreign circles, as no reason appears to exist for it at present. Recently a naval attache attending a social function at Yokosuka naval station was met at the station and taken through the yard in an automobile, the windows of which were heavily curtained.

Airship Burns; Crew Saved.

TOKIO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Japanese airship N-3 while participating in naval maneuvers today was forced to descend into the sea off the Izu peninsula, because of engine trouble. On touching the water the airship burst into flames. The crew was rescued, but one member was seriously injured.

Vatican Ignores Fascist Paper on 'Roman Question'

ROME, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Osservatore Romano, official organ of the Vatican, authoritative reports say, will make an answer to the official Fascist organ, Foglio D'Ordini, on the "Roman question," and it will refuse even to discuss the possibility of the restoration of the temporal power. It is said negotiations between the Vatican and the state will continue unhindered by the secret newspaper discussion.

GROCER IS ROBBED OF $85.

A bandit robbed Jacob Becker yesterday morning in his grocery at 3738 West 18th street. Becker said the robber locked him in a rear room before escaping with $85 from the cash register.

Held for Trying to Attack Woman in Her Home

Henry Van Dermeier, 21, of 2553 Logan boulevard, was arrested by Shakespeare avenue police yesterday on a charge that he had hidden in the apartment of Mrs. Holgar Pettersen, in the same building, and attempted to attack her. He became frightened and fled when she screamed. Police say he confessed.

DETROIT MAYOR PROMISES GOOD RUM IF ELECTED

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Which would you have, a city of crime or a city of good liquor, asks Mayor John W. Smith of the people he asks to reëlect him.

Comfortably ensconsed in a great soft chair out in his home—a pretty Spanish bungalow—the mayor today gave his views on the sole issue of Detroit's amazing mayoral campaign—prohibition.

Mayor Smith, from the fullness of three years' experience as the chief executive of this city of 1,500,000, says that prohibition never can be enforced; that attempts to enforce it breeds corruption in government, hypocrisy among citizens and crime where otherwise crime would not flourish.

Joust with Reformers.

His opponent, John C. Lodge, pursuing a novel campaign of absolute silence, has not spoken on the subject, but his advocates say for him that he will dry up the city. Both men are lifelong Republicans, which leaves only the one common battle ground of Volsteadism on which the liberalists will joust with the reformers.

"They say," says Mayor Smith, "that I have nullified the prohibition law in Detroit. They are blockheads who do not see that the public has vetoed the law."

The mayor takes his own liquor with gusto. He publishes definitely that he keeps the stuff in his home.

"We always have had liquor in my home," he said. "My father was a brewer, and our kegs never were dry. From my childhood to this day I have battled the prohibtionists. In the senate of this state I voted every time against a dry law. As a mayor I tried to enforce it, because I swore to, but it was no use. It would take an army of snoopers—half the population to watch the other half."

Spies and Invaders.

"There are other laws I swore to enforce, and chief among them is that establishing the rights of men to be secure in their homes against spies and invaders cloaked with illegal authority.

"The prohibition law is America's greatest curse of today and if by a wave of the hand I could wipe it out, I should feel that I had performed the greatest service for my country since the days of the beloved liberator, Lincoln."

Courts of Detroit have refused to try liquor cases now because they never result in convictions, the mayor declared.

"Today there are 800 liquor cases on the dockets, most of them having reposed there for many months," Mayor Smith said.

"I don't criticize the courts for that. I commend them. For in the last year 165 murderous bandits have been sent to prison for terms aggregating 1,100 years.

"And why should the courts try liquor violations? In hundreds of cases tried in recorder's court, in which a jury has passed upon the defendants' guilt, not one jury ever voted a guilty verdict. Not one.

"Now, do you believe me when I say the public, not Mayor Smith, has vetoed and nullified the prohibition law?"

The mayor was caustically sarcastic when he spoke, about the groups opposing his candidacy.

"When Lodge's principal sponsor, R. N. Holsaple, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, attacks me and says I should get out before I am kicked out, I feel I should pay him for such splendid advertising," Mayor Smith said.

"Nearly all of these professional dry men drink in their homes and their exclusive clubs. If they can do that they have no right to keep poor men from enjoying the same rights.

Opponent in Exclusive Club.

"Lodge is a member of Detroit's most exclusive club, the Yondetega, to which only 114 members are admitted, and all of them are of great wealth. Will Lodge tell me there is no drinking at the Yondetega? And why can't Lodge tell the public whether he himself drinks? I have known Lodge for many years, but I rather he told it himself."

Detroit has not had a bank robbery since last March, the mayor said. He quoted these figures to show that Detroit stands well in crime prevention as compared with other cities.

Fines imposed in liquor law violations have averaged $54 each, Mayor Smith pointed out.

Few Robberies in Detroit.

Robberies in Detroit for the last year have been 5.23 per 10,000 population. The figures for burglaries in that period are 3.12. Other cities have this record:

City.	Robberies.	Burglaries.
Los Angeles	10.85	66.61
St. Louis	18.84	22.36
San Francisco	9.84	43.92
Buffalo	3.04	19.36
Milwaukee	2.18	15.94
Washington	5.34	33.39
Cincinnati	12.08	37.29
Cleveland	7.20	7.98
Chicago	4.26	2.92

The figures were supplied by William Rutledge, commissioner of police of Detroit.

Fight Crimes of Violence.

The mayor credits it all to the fact that his police force has concentrated on crimes of violence.

Asked whether he did not fear criminal prosecution for his defiance of Volsteadism, Mayor Smith said: "I do not feel that I have violated any law which will give the drys a chance to punish me, but I say, if I have, let them make the most of it. I have issued no orders to my police force telling them not to enforce prohibition.

"I have told them they must keep people safe from burglars and bandits and rapists, and that if they did not I would give them the ax.

"Only once did I discuss with the force their conduct in enforcing the liquor laws. It was at a police lieutenants' ball, and I got up to make a speech. In the course of it I said, 'You men think it great sport to pick up the paper mornings and read that you raided 90 blind pigs the night before. But you know they are open again the next day. I hear that you men are breaking into homes and stores, using axes to smash fixtures and terrorize the citizens. These tipovers must stop. You must obey the statute and use only strictly legal means in making raids.'

"And they did stop it. There are no window peepers and snoopers on the Detroit police force."

Savage to Be Honor Guest at Banquet Tomorrow

Howard P. Savage who has just returned from the Legion convention in Paris, will be the guest of honor at a rally of Forty and Eighters tomorrow night at the Hotel La Salle. Col. A. A. CHINESE MINE RIVER, HALTING FOREIGN SHIPS

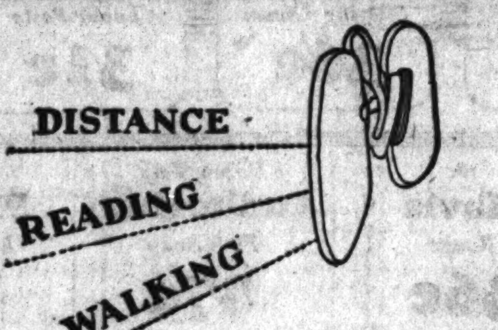
HANKOW, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The political council of the Hankow or radical Chinese Nationalist government announces a severance of all relations with the moderate Nationalist government at Nanking, which is accused of breaking all promises to the Hankow faction. The commander of the retreating fourth army of the Hankow group has mined the Yangtse river midway between Nanking and Wuhu for a distance of about 100 miles. Chinese and foreign steamers are not allowed to pass without permission of the local Chinese military authorities.



Now—a three-way lens
so You can watch Your Step
—for distance, for reading, for walking

Almer Coe & Company now introduce a reading and distance lens—through which one may see his feet and his step. Science has finally overcome the one feature objectionable in all other bifocals, and UNIVIS is the result. The Univis Lens permits one to see where he steps as naturally as he would if he needed no glasses. This is the greatest improvement since the invisible fused bifocals were brought out by Almer Coe & Company twenty years ago. Almer Coe & Company recommend Univis lenses and assume full responsibility for their successful operation and performance. If you are wearing bifocals, let your next pair be UNIVIS. If you have not yet worn them let your first pair be UNIVIS. Step in today and see them.

See This Remarkable Improvement On the Bifocal Principle

You are invited to the nearest Almer Coe store to see this new, perfected, three-way lens, the UNIVIS. Walking up and down stairs and steps, with this lens, is as easy as reading or "seeing at a distance." New comfort, new efficiency, more satisfaction, Almer Coe guaranteed, and made up in all styles. "America's Largest and Finest Collection of Oriental Rugs"

Economy is a Powerful Factor in ORIENTAL RUG BUYING
—that is a conceded fact

By SARKIS H. NAHIGIAN

YES, time was when Oriental Rugs were regarded altogether as a luxury—something to excite desire perhaps, but quite beyond the reach of the "average purse."

* * *

But as civilization "stepped on the gas," dreams of yesterday became realities of today.

* * *

Oriental Rugs are no longer considered in the luxury class alone, for on the commercial horizon looms still another powerful factor.

* * *

* * *

The life of a genuine Oriental Rug is never-ending—it lives on and on, to delight generation after generation.

* * *

This institution offers you the largest and finest Collection of Oriental Rugs in America, plus a "Service" that is exceptional in every sense of the word.

ASK INDICTMENT OF CONFESSED FATHER KILLER

McHenry county's September grand jury will be recalled this morning and asked to vote an indictment for murder against William Schumacher, 28 year old farm hand who confessed he killed his father, Christopher Schumacher, 55, by firing a charge from a shotgun into his head from behind in the barn on the Schumacher farm near the town of McHenry.

State's Attorney J. J. McCauley will ask the indictment on the basis of the confession made to Sheriff Cyrus Sanford of McHenry county. In his confession Schumacher sought to justify the killing by telling of years of brutality by the father to the son and to his mother and others of the family.

Community Expresses Sympathy.

As young Schumacher sat in the county jail at Woodstock yesterday, many persons in the town and the neighborhood were expressing sympathy for him and saying they knew that what he had said about his father was true.

Schumacher expressed no sorrow for what he had done and reiterated he believed he had done the right thing.

Girl Stands by Him.

"I heard dad tell mother I was not his child," he had stated in his confession. "I made up my mind then that I would kill him some day and free mother of her life of slavery with him."

Young Schumacher was visited yesterday by Miss Jessie Marlowe, the sweetheart he was to have married this week. "I'm going to stick to him," Miss Marlowe said.

DRY LAW TRIAL OF MASON, OWEN TO BEGIN TODAY

The trial of Lowell B. Mason, state senator from Oak Park, and Percy B. Owen, former prohibition official, is scheduled to begin this morning at 9:30 o'clock before United States Judge Walter C. Lindley. Attorney Ninian H. Welch, representing Mr. Owen, who obtained a continuance last Tuesday, said last night he was ready to proceed today. The government will be represented at the trial by Assistant Attorney General H. R. Gamble of Washington, D. C., and Assistant United States District Attorney Leo Klein. Senator Mason is to act as his own counsel.

The government charges that Mason and Owen were leaders in a ring that extorted and accepted bribes growing out of the three year old sacramental wine scandal. They previously were acquitted by a jury of charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

ROB GIRL CASHIER IN HOTEL.

Three armed men walked into the lobby of the Kenrose hotel, 6417 Kenwood avenue, and in the presence of several guests held up Miss Lou Peel, cashier. They got $60.

PACKERS WILL HONOR VETERAN EMPLOYES TODAY

"Meeting the New Competition in Manufacture" will be the main topic of the afternoon session today of the annual convention of the Institute of American Meat Packers at the Stevens hotel. During the morning ten men will receive gold buttons for fifty years of service in the packing industry, and more than a thousand will receive silver buttons for twenty-five years. The buttons will be awarded by E. A. Cudahy Jr., vice president of the institute, following the president's address by Oscar G. Mayer.

J. R. Mohler, chief of the United States bureau of animal industry, will talk on "Production of Raw Materials" this afternoon. H. E. Howe, editor of the Journal of Chemical and Industrial Engineering, will discuss "Research and Development."

Hundreds of delegates have arrived in Chicago to attend the twenty-second annual convention. Prominent packers will meet to discuss problems of the industry. The meeting will end with a banquet Wednesday night.

SMUGGLING OF ALIENS CAUSES ACUTE PROBLEM

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—[Special.]—Immigration officials are deeply concerned over the tremendous growth in the smuggling of aliens into the United States. The smuggling has now reached the most acute stage since the first restrictive quota laws were enacted by congress six years ago, outranking liquor smuggling in magnitude.

TODAY IS REVISION DAY

Explanation

Sales have been phenomenal since the announcement of completed Fire Insurance adjustments and the opening of the sale to clear away all rugs that were subjected to smoke or water. Now, for the first time, we have had an opportunity to straighten out the confusion and make further downward price revisions.

ORIENTAL RUGS

Please remember that every one of the hundreds of rugs offered in this sale was in the store at the time of the fire—and every one of them must be disposed of as imperfect. Not that they are imperfect—because the taint of smoke can be easily aired out of them—but Pushman's Quality Standard cannot permit any of them to remain as regular stock.

Progress— With the March of Time

Along with hoop-skirts and stove-pipe hats, along with frame store buildings and dirt roads, along with the flight of time, have gone the old fashioned round watches with their heavy red gold casings and thick crystals.

In keeping with these other notable advances has been developed the Watch of distinctive form (the form watch). The Gruen Pentagon beautifully slender, mechanically perfect, is a symbol of the nation's progress.

This watch is unique first of all by its shape. Its five gracefully rounded sides give it added utility as well as beauty The Pentagon does not tip over in the pocket. By keeping an upright position at all times its finely adjusted parts are permitted to operate with greater uniformity —hence with more constant accuracy. In addition, the Gruen Precision movement represents the highest standard of timekeeping excellence

Likewise in a sale of this character, we cannot sell merchandise subject to exchange or cancellation, neither can we hold for future delivery. Every Sale Must Be Final.

Any purchase over $35 may be made on our deferred payment plan with small carrying charge. Come prepared to pay one-fourth down as no goods can be laid aside on a small deposit.

LETTS' VOTE TO DECIDE BRITISH BALTIC POWER

BY DONALD DAY.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 23.—The eight year conflict between England and Russia for political mastery and economic control of the Baltic states will be decided on Thursday when the Latvian parliament votes upon the ratification of the Latvian trade treaty with the soviets.

A rapprochement with Russia through a trade treaty and a guarantee pact are the chief points of the foreign policy of the Latvian Socialist cabinet, which was formed almost a year ago. Pursuing this policy, the Letts would free themselves from entangling Polish and British influences. Should the treaty be approved, all English efforts to form a pro-British bloc of countries on the soviet borders will have collapsed.

Strikes at U. S. Trade.

Inserted in all the trade treaties Latvia thus far has signed is the clause retaining the privilege of granting Rusisa most favored nation treatment. The treaty coming up for a vote steps on the toes of the United States as well as England, since in it Russia obtains a special tariff discount of 20 per cent on wheat and 25 per cent on oil products.

The United States has been supplying Latvia with an average of 60,000 tons of wheat and flour a year since the country's independence, while the buying of oil products has been distributed proportionally, two-thirds from England and one-third from America. Should the treaty be passed, the soviet government will have obtained an important lever of influence over other Baltic countries.

Last week the passage of the treaty seemed a certainty, but since then the active campaign of the opposition group has decreased the majority of the Socialists to one vote.

Mrs. Snyder and Gray's Appeal Plea Up Today

New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—The fate of Ruth Brown Snyder and her former paramour, Henry Judd Gray, will be placed in the hands of five justices of the Court of Appeals at Albany tomorrow. They will pass on motions for a new trial to be made by Edgar Hazleton, counsel for the woman, and Samuel L. Miller, representing the condemned man.

SCORES IN CELLS AFTER RAIDS ON VICE CENTERS

As the result of police raids on alleged vice centers in the early hours of yesterday morning, nearly eighty men and women spent yesterday in cells at the Desplaines street police station. Details of police headed by Lieut. Charles Egan and Sergt. Joseph Pieroth were in charge of the raiders.

Fifteen men and women were taken into custody at 20 West 18th street; ten men and women were arrested at 1134 West Lake street; a dozen of both sexes were found at 30 South Halsted street, forty were seized at 210 South Halsted street.

U. S. ONCE MORE DENIES STORY OF TRENCH RENTALS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Constant recurrence of the story that the American army in France was forced to pay rent for the trenches in which they fought during the world war caused the war department to issue another denial of the report today.

No such payments were made by the United States, it is asserted in the department's statement. The probable origin of the story is attributed to the fact payments were made for the use of, and damage to, drill and maneuver grounds located on privately owned land where instruction trenches were built.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks — sparkling eyes — most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

6 AUTO DEATHS LISTED IN DAY; TOLL IS NOW 761

Two Women, Four Men Are Victims.

Six deaths yesterday as a result of automobile accidents raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 761.

Mrs. Josephine Sommers, 28, owner of a beauty parlor in Hammond, was killed when the car in which she was riding crashed into a concrete pillar at the entrance of the Oak Lawn cemetery. Her husband was seriously injured in the accident.

James C. Gray, 75, of 6511 South Union avenue, died of injuries suffered Saturday when he was thrown from the seat of a truck in a collision at 72d and Morgan streets.

Horse Trainer Is Killed.

William Schemmles, 55, a trainer of horses at the Arlington track, was killed when he was struck at the Northwest highway and Wilke road by an automobile driven by O. T. Heller, 5123 North Christiana avenue.

William Kirchner, 39, of 38 West 109th street, died at the St. Francis hospital in Blue Island of injuries suffered on Thursday when his automobile was struck by a train on the Rock Island crossing at 99th and Wood streets.

Mrs. Martha Vorreyer, 40, of 2420 Grove avenue, Berwyn, died of injuries suffered in an automobile crash several weeks ago.

Taxi Driver Is Killed.

Henry Gutsman, 31, of 5418 North Mobile avenue, chauffeur for the Northwest Cab company, was instantly killed when he was crushed beneath the taxicab of Herbert Paulson, employed by the same company. Paulson, under the influence of liquor, police were told by witnesses, got into his cab, which was parked at Austin and Lawrence avenues and started to drive. Gutzman jumped on the running board to stop him. Paulson, apparently became excited and in front of 5735 Lawrence avenue lost control of his cab. It overturned, pinning Gutzman beneath it.

Josephine Daisdado, 6 years old, of Waukegan, was struck and killed last night by a southbound automobile on Genevieve street. Three witnesses told the police that two cars were passing the spot at the time but they were uncertain which hit the girl. Otto Grafe of 5514 Lynch avenue, Chicago, was held for questioning.

Hurt in Crash on "Drive."

Miss Nellie Christianson, 30, of 2755 Warren avenue, suffered a fractured skull yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which she was riding was struck at Schiller street and Lake Shore drive by a Chicago-Milwaukee bus.

John Bruce, 7507 Ingleside avenue, and Martin Soderland of 7351 Evans avenue were arrested last night at 76th street and Ingleside avenue on charges of driving while intoxicated. It was alleged that Bruce collided with a patrol wagon filled with policemen from the Grand Crossing station.

Lunatic on Way to Asylum Escapes from Loop Hotel

Harvey Wade, 38 years old, said to be violently insane, escaped yesterday from the custody of C. M. Gilmour, who was taking him from Tacoma, Wash., to an asylum at Marion, W. Va. The escape took place while the two were waiting between trains in the Atlantic hotel. The police started a search for Wade.

CALL PETROLEUM EXPERT TODAY IN TRIAL OF FALL

Important Ruling Also to Be Made by Court.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Arthur W. Ambrose, formerly a petroleum expert in the bureau of mines, will be called as a witness by the government tomorrow when the trial of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil operator, for conspiracy to defraud the United States in the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, is resumed in the District Supreme court.

Before Ambrose takes the stand, Justice Frederick L. Siddons, it is expected, will announce his ruling on the demand of the government to be allowed to offer statements made by Fall and Sinclair during the senate oil scandal investigation as evidence in the present trial. The use of these admittedly damaging statements is fought by the defense on the ground that federal statutes prohibit the use of testimony before a congressional committee against the witness in a subsequent criminal proceeding.

Ambrose, while attached to the bureau of mines, made a study of the Teapot Dome reserve and his testimony is sought by the government to contradict the claims of Fall that it was necessary to lease the reserve for offset drilling in order to prevent drainage of the reserves by wells drilled in adjacent fields.

FOUND DEAD IN ROUNDHOUSE.

Jesse River, 38, colored, of 2232 South Dearborn street was found dead yesterday in a railroad roundhouse at 1425 South Canal street. Death apparently was due to heart disease.

Are Your Feet killing you?

When the constant torture of aching feet causes a woman to exclaim "My feet are killing me!" she simply means that her feet pain her. She doesn't realize that her exclamation is literally true—that the steady strain of aching feet overtaxes her nerves and burdens her with the fatigue and depression that gradually kill her youth and beauty.

Don't overlook the fact that foot pains are more serious than the immediate pain they give you. Don't just complain about them . . . correct them. The three corrective features found only in Ground Gripper Shoes will give you quick and permanent relief. They are: The Straight Line Inner Edge, the Flexible Arch, and the Patented Rotor Heel. COLORADO FARM LEADERS ON WAY TO SEE LOWDEN

Denver, Colo., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—A delegation of twenty farm organization leaders in Colorado left here tonight for Oregon, Ill., where on Monday they will ask former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency.

The delegation is led by Oliver H. Shoup of Colorado Springs, former governor of Colorado.

"Colorado farmers are nearly all high protectionists, especially those who grow sugar beets," said a spokesman for the group. "They are fearful that if a demand arises for a general revision of the tariff that the eastern leaders of the party will sacrifice the sugar tariff to appease the popular clamor and at the same time retain the protection for eastern industries.

"We are very favorable to the nomination and election of Mr. Lowden because of his knowledge of our western conditions and his understanding of our problems here."

CICERO VOTERS DECIDE SCHOOL ISSUE TOMORROW

Voters in Cicero will decide upon two propositions at a special election to be held tomorrow. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m.

One proposition to be submitted inquires whether the Cicero board of education shall build a new 18 room addition to the Daniel H. Burnham school at 18th street and South 59th avenue, Cicero, and whether bonds to the amount of $200,000 shall be issued for that purpose.

The second proposition is on the question of establishing a board of fire and police commissioners in the city as provided for in an act of the legislature passed in 1903. The act provides for the appointment of such a board in all cities of Illinois having a population of not less than 7,000 nor more than 200,000.

HEIR TO STOUT MILLIONS STICKS TO FACTORY JOB

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Allison B. Stout, 26, heir to a large estate left by his father, Frank Deming Stout, who died in Chicago recently, likes his job in the stoker department of the Eddystone plant of the Westinghouse Electric company, and he intends to stick to it for the present.

Newspaper men say that he is making good where he is, and that fact interests him more for the moment than the fortune left him by his father last week.

Frank Deming Stout, one of Chicago's wealthy men, imposed the injunction on his son to "make good," and the son believes that is what he is doing. Out of Yale only two years, Stout asserts that he needs business experience and that he is busy getting it.

The will, disposing of an estate variously estimated at $2,000,000 to $25,000,000, left most of the property to the son, but stipulated that the young man must prove himself capable of handling his fortune before it would pass into his hands at the age of 35.

While Stout was a sophomore in the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale he married Miss Elizabeth Atkinson of Texas. They live in a suburb of Philadelphia.

The youthful heir said that reports from Chicago that his father's estate was valued at $25,000,000 were "all wrong."

FORGER'S FATHER PAYS CHECK.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—George Foster, 18, of Spokane, Wash., who was arrested here after passing twenty-seven worthless checks, was paroled yesterday to his father, a wealthy clothier, when arraigned before Judge George Shaughnessy. His father made restitution on the checks.

ENDOWMENTS OF WOMEN COLLEGES CALLED INEQUAL

Boston, Mass., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The question of fair play for women's colleges is raised today by the deans of seven of the best known of these institutions. They say the amount contributed to education goes so largely to men's institutions that girls of moderate means are denied education.

The seven deans number five women and two men, and they sign the article jointly.

The colleges represented are Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and Wellesley. The deans are respectively, Virginia Crocheron Gildersleeve, Marion Edwards Park, Mary E. Woolley, Ada L. Comstock, William Allen Neilson, Henry Noble MacCracken, and Ellen F. Pendleton.

None of these colleges is far from fifty years old, the article says, and all represent the same period of American educational history in which women's right to higher education has been admitted.

"If women," says the article, "the mothers and teachers of the next generation, are to have as good an education as their brothers, as solid, as intelligent, as far reaching, then that education must be established so that it cannot slip backward.

"Are we in America prepared to admit the right of women to the same quality of educational opportunity as men? If we are, it follows that the institutions for women should receive financial support in proportion. Such support has not so far been given.

"The largest of the women's colleges, for example, has endowments yielding annually less than $120 per student, compared with $500 of its nearest neighbor among the men's colleges. The difference is made up by charging higher fees and by greater economy in operation.

"The fees have already been raised to the point where the number of students from the less well-to-do families is showing a serious decline. A large part of the income from increased fees has to be used for scholarships to retain our clientele from among the daughters of teachers, ministers, doctors, and other professional men on moderate salaries.

"It is from these classes that, in our experience, come the largest proportion of good minds. It would be a great loss to the country if these girls could not be given the educational opportunities of which they make so excellent a use. We need them and their still poorer sisters to maintain the democracy in our academic life. In spite of all our efforts the proportion of students from public high schools is steadily declining. Such a result would be a calamity for all concerned."

Early American Furniture

Duncan Phyfe

The years following the close of the Revolutionary war were the golden age of American furniture and probably the most outstanding name of this period is that of Duncan Phyfe.

His furniture was mostly of mahogany, the lines following the classic refinement of Sheraton and the Empire. It is today one of the most popular of the early American styles.

We are making a very extensive exhibit of Duncan Phyfe and other early American furniture for every room.

See Renomination Only in Event of Deadlock.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Renomination of President Coolidge is now regarded as possible only in the event of a hopeless deadlock in the Republican convention.

The rebuke administered by the President to Senator Fess [Rep., O.] for his activity in disseminating the idea that Mr. Coolidge will be named despite the "I do not choose to run" statement is regarded as clearing the atmosphere somewhat. Most of those close to the administration are convinced that it is the President's sincere desire that there should be no movement whatever in his behalf.

Will Not Amplify Statement.

There is no expectation that the President will issue any further public statement amplifying or clarifying his first statement. The President has made is evident to his friends that he regards his statement as sufficient and believes that the people generally understand it is a complete withdrawal from the race.

The President presumably believes that there are plenty of available candidates for the nomination and he sees no reason why the convention should be unable to make a selection. He apparently thinks it would be presumptious on his part to assume that the convention will inevitably turn to him unless he specifically states in advance that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination.

Comparatively few Republicans of prominence anticipate such a deadlock as would lead to the renomination of President Coolidge as the only solution. It is believed a number of ballots may be necessary but that eventually one of those who is now figuring in the discussions will be nominated.

Anybody's Race at This Time.

The tendency on the part of many states is toward the selection of delegates either pledged to favorite son candidates or uninstructed. The presidential primaries to be held in about a third of the states will give but little line on sentiment of the country as a whole and the convention is likely to assemble with its outcome completely in doubt.

The prospect is that Charles E. Hughes, Herbert Hoover and Vice President Dawes will all remain out of the primaries and that Frank O. Lowden if entered as a primary candidate in some of the states will not be directly arrayed against any of the other three.

HUSBAND DUELS WITH 'OTHER MAN' 'MID GAY THRONG

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A pistol duel in which one man was killed and the other wounded so severely that he died later was an incident of Santiago's spring carnival yesterday.

As the traditional masked parade was moving slowly along early in the evening, Martin Garetto, a well known business man, ran out from the center of the crowds of spectators on Estado street and climbed into one of the brilliantly decorated automobiles. He snatched the mask from the face of a woman garbed as Pierrette. It was his wife, Elena Ibanez Ovalle de Garetto. Manuel Rivera Aldunate, dressed as Pierrot, who was riding with her, jumped from the car and Garetto pursued him.

The pair ran through the throngs of merrymakers, and finally Aldunate was trapped in a doorway. He drew a pistol and shot and wounded Garetto, and the latter, returning the fire, killed him.

Hassel's Shoes Quality—Service

The most important thing to you when buying shoes are the comfort and satisfactory service you get for your money.

Good looking shoes can be found any place, at any time. It's not hard to find shoes that will be comfortable on your feet. But satisfactory service is a thing which can't be wrapped up and delivered to you with a pair of shoes; it has to be built into the shoes, and you can't know whether it is or not until you've worn them.

We guarantee "Satisfactory Service." To do so, we have to be sure of the quality of our merchandise; that we fit you properly, and that our prices are right.

Today Is S. A. Doughnut Day

The familiar sight of doughnuts over the city today will revive in our hearts memories of other doughnut days . . . days when the Salvation Army lassies at home and abroad stood hour after hour serving doughnuts and hot coffee to the soldiers who went marching by. The government supplied food for our men, but the doughnuts were extra! Today the doughnuts will be extra again, extra chances for you to help the Salvation Army even though you have already contributed.

The war is over, but the work of mercy, of help, of love has kept up its steady fight for the man who is down but never out! The work of relief in devastated regions is ever ready where and when it is needed. Within thirty minutes after the recent disaster in St. Louis, the Salvation Army was serving doughnuts and coffee to the sufferers, was feeding and clothing twelve hundred homeless.

If you have already given to the Salvation Army, buy a doughnut today, anyway! It's extra . . . just as it was extra for the boys at the front, just as it was extra for the homeless of St. Louis, of the Mississippi flood district, of the Florida tornado section. Let it be an extra for you. Every cent that is raised by the Salvation Army here is spent in Chicago and Cook County alone in the salvation of human lives through sixty-one different worthy channels of service. Even if you have not been asked for a contribution you can mail cash or check to

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

BEGIN FIGHT FOR $21,000,000 TO MODERNIZE ARMY

Staff Men to Go Before Budget Head This Week.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Indications are that a vigorous fight is to be made before the budget director and in congress to obtain appropriations this winter for building up the army's depleted ammunition reserve and for replacing obsolete weapons with new and more effective equipment.

Disclosures that the entire ammunition reserve of the army would be exhausted in an hour by an army of one million men, the force which this government would place in the field as soon as possible in case of a major emergency, has resulted in renewed activities on the part of those responsible for the nation's defense.

It also has been revealed that the army is still plugging along with war time equipment despite the fact that new and greatly improved weapons have been developed.

Ask 21 Million Over 10 Years.

Testimony obtained from Maj. Gen. Summerall, army chief of staff, in response to inquiries from members of the house military affairs committee revealed that the ordnance department has submitted a program to the war department calling for the expenditure of $21,000,000 during the next ten years in the manufacture and testing of new weapons.

"The ordnance department has submitted a program," Gen. Summerall said, "which is a very reasonable one, calling for a ten-year manufacture of articles so that at least two manufacturers in the country could produce the key weapons to be used and have all the means of manufacturing them should war come, and at the same time give the army an opportunity to test, by battery, or by company, or by regiment, enough of these weapons to see that they are really what we are after."

Hearings on Budget This Week.

Hearings to be held on army appropriations before the budget director this week may largely determine the fate of the army's replacement program. It is expected, however, that even if the budget omits funds for munition purchases the matter will be aired in congressional committees. Army officials headed by Gen. Summerall will appear before Budget Director Lord this week.

CHICAGO

Conservative Investments Constitute America's Greatest Opportunities

HARMON is part of Chicago! The history of the growth of this lusty giant of cities could not be written without reference to the development activities of this firm. Its record shows nearly a half-century of service in the preparation and marketing of successful American home and business communities. Ravenswood, Chatham Fields and Beverly Hills are outstanding examples of Chicago communities that owe much to the foresight of this concern. Harmon "discovered" them—developed the raw prairie into charming, livable districts that are now counted among Chicago's finest.

Who Else Can Say This?

Any real estate concern can point to isolated cases of profit-making for its clients. Harmon says, "Ask any one of our many customers for his opinion of Harmon, for every Harmon customer is a Harmon booster and has made a real profit with Harmon." We doubt if any other realty firm in the world can point to such a record. We dare because of figures that do not lie.

$30,000,000 Profits

Made by Harmon investors

Ravenswood Manor, our first Chicago development, sold for the total price of $679,000. Today conservative valuation puts its worth at $6,000,000. Our Ravenswood Gardens was retailed for $371,000—its present value is estimated at $4,250,000. Rogers Park South was a Harmon development that was purchased by individuals for the sum of $103,000. It is now valued at $720,000. Crawford Square sold for $125,000. It is now worth $1,080,000. Other records include Jefferson Park West—sold for $75,000—now valued at $576,000. Belmont Gardens—sold for $440,000—its present valuation is $3,300,000. Chatham Fields sold for $1,200,000—today its valuation is $12,000,000. Southfield was retailed for $630,000—today it shows a valuation of $6,000,000. The total of these profits taken by Chicago investors in our properties is $30,000,000.

History Repeats Itself

What do these figures mean to you? Just this—they are proof that Harmon selects properties in the direct course of the city's growth—develops and improves them in a way that makes progress certain—properties that are money makers for buyers.

Past performance is the only safe guide to future accomplishment—perhaps you were not able to get in on our previous developments—perhaps you doubted. NOW is the time of another great opportunity for you. Harmon is about to open another great development—one that we feel is to be our greatest. In view of the Harmon record, can you afford not to at least investigate?

Mr. C. M. Wilson
1117 Ontario St., Oak Park is a Harmon customer

He Made $89,000 on $6,000 in Only 4 Years

He bought the northwest corner of Cottage Grove and 80th St. (in our Chatham Fields Development) for $6,000. Four years later he resold it for $95,000—a profit of $89,000. This instance is one of many—just note the large AVERAGE profit taken by buyers in EVERY Harmon Development. NOW you have the opportunity to share in what we feel is to be our greatest development. Send for forecast, plat and price list—no obligation.

~and Now OUR LATEST (and we believe our best) Chicago Development is Ready

HERE stable and immense fortunes in real estate should be made within the next few years. YOU can share in the growth that is bound to come.

In 1919 we published a forecast of the 79th Street region, published it when we offered another one of our phenomenal successes—CHATHAM FIELDS—to the Chicago public. Then it was scoffed at—doubters said that we were incurable optimists. Today this forecast has not only been fulfilled, but to read it over you would remark on its conservatism in view of what has actually taken place.

Today we make a forecast for the region of our latest development. We see for it all that has made 79th Street grow, plus individual features that even exceed 79th Street's possibilities as a great residential and business area of Chicago.

This new Harmon development has all of the usual features that are used as measures of property value—location, transportation, improvement, restrictions and proper price. It is located directly in the path of that onrushing wave of population increase which inevitably results in rising values.

We want you to know the worth of this investment, where less than $100 cash will start you on the purchase of a business or apartment site, inside the city limits of Chicago, on 30-minute electrified transportation to the Loop. Send today for our Forecast for this new Harmon development, which will be sent you without obligation together with location, plat, prices and full particulars.

J. J. SCHOBINGER, VETERAN SCHOOL PRINCIPAL, DIES

John J. Schobinger, principal of the Harvard school for fifty-one years before his retirement a year ago, died yesterday following a long illness at his home, 10847 South Hoyne avenue. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Schobinger came to Chicago in 1873 at the request of the late Thomas B. Bryan of Elmhurst. He had previously been a tutor in Switzerland. His widow, Emily, and four children survive. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the Morgan Park Baptist church. Burial will be at at Mount Greenwood cemetery.

Funeral Rites to Be Held Today for Julius Rebsamen

Many northwest side business men will attend the funeral service today for Julius Rebsamen, veteran Chicago manufacturer, who died Friday at his home, 4881 North Hermitage avenue. The rites will be held at 2 p. m. at 3834 Irving Park boulevard. Mr. Rebsamen was 67 years old and a native of Switzerland. He came to Chicago in 1879 and for four years was a partner in the firm of Rebsamen and Almeroth. Two sons, Hans and Willis, survive him.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Before an Audience.

Privacy was desired because we had quarreled the night before and the present call was intended to patch things up. But alas, my girl was still much peeved. Fiendishly she refused to listen to my impassioned pleas and insisted she would never see me again. Really caring for her, I poured plea after plea into the telephone mouthpiece.

Finally, I thought to scare her into listening to reason, so I fairly shouted, "All right, I'm going to end it all." Then I hung up the receiver and turned about to leave the booth.

And, believe me, when I saw that the door to the booth had been standing open all the time and that a sizeable audience, including my boss, had been listening with great amusement, I almost made good my promise to commit suicide. J. L. D.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Central Standard Time.)

Grossman to Entertain W-G-N Listeners Today

BERNIE GROSSMAN, author of the music in Charlotte Greenwood's famous musical show, "Linger Longer Letty," playing a group of his own compositions will be featured during Mac Sattley's half hour this morning between 11 and 11:30 o'clock from W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel. With Bernie will be Art Sizemore, another well known writer of tuneful ditties. In addition to this talented pair, Mac will also bring before the microphone his popular "blues singer," Melita Caldwell, also Elmer Haynes, who will be heard in harmony singing both with Miss Caldwell and with Mac himself. A special added feature will be a group of solos by Mr. Sattley to his own banjo and ukulele accompaniment.

An old favorite among W-G-N listeners, Thomas Pattison Coates, baritone, features this afternoon's Lyon & Healy artist recital between 2:30 and 3 o'clock. Mr. Coates will be heard every day this week at the same time. His program is essentially the same as the one he used for his debut recital in Chicago early this month. He is also including in it Edmond's ario from "The King's Henchman," the opera in English by Deems Taylor, the feature of his recent recital. A group of songs in German opens the program.

That talented young pianist, Edward Barry, will also be heard in recital this afternoon between 4 and 4:30 o'clock. Mr. Barry, whom most listeners know as the teacher of W-G-N piano lesson fame, is a pianist of no mean ability, and he gives testimony of his skill this afternoon. His program will be of a classical nature. Other interesting music is also scheduled for the afternoon between 3:30 ad 4 o'clock, and 4:30 and 5 o'clock. During the first half hour the Marshall Field tea room orchestra will entertain, while the Mandel Brothers tea room orchestra broadcasts during the second period.

A talk, "Ballot Changes for Illinois," to be given Mrs. John N. Vander Vries, president of the Winnetka Civil Service Reform league, who is appearing on the program under the auspices of the Illinois League of Woman Voters, features this afternoon's session of the W-G-N Woman's club. Readings of interest to women by John Reed Tyson will make up the balance of the program.

The Drake concert ensemble and the Blackstone string quintet take an active part in today's W-G-N program. The two fine orchestras will be heard in their regular luncheon concert, 12:40 to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and again in a brief dinner concert between 6:35 and 7 o'clock.

Monday night is silent night in Chicago, and W-G-N leaves the air promptly at 7.

Little Johnny was being scolded by his mother, but as yet he had offered no argument in his own behalf. After a few minutes his mother, pointing her finger at him severely, asked, "Johnny, why did you ever do such a naughty thing?"

After looking about the room in a puzzled fashion, Johnny finally replied, "Wait a minute; I haven't thought of a reason yet." J. S.

The Portrait Invisible

BY JOSEPH GOLLOMB

SYNOPSIS.

[illegible], owner of a New York gambling house, and two crooks, Slim and Butch, [illegible] a frequent visitor, known as The Goldfish. They accuse him of being a stool pigeon, because he is often in the court room of Judge Robert Craigin, who is severe with criminals. The Goldfish denies the charges, turns the tables by revealing he "has the goods" on them, and dismisses them with an ultimatum—they are to be always at his command.

On the following Monday Judge Craigin does not appear for the opening of a famous trial. His younger brother, Bruce, known as the prodigy judge, bitterly resents a detective's suggestion that there may be a woman in the case, even when it is hinted she may be revenging a husband or brother for a harsh sentence, since the elder Craigin has never tempered justice with mercy.

Francis Galt, whom Bruce knew in college as The Goldfish, a student of psychoanalysis, with a strange power over men and tricks in mind reading, begins work on the case. Police find the murdered body of Robert Craigin in a suburban cottage, the tenant of which is said to be a young woman named Kate Randall. The Goldfish announces he is going to live in the house in order to study the character of the suspected, missing woman, by observing her books and other details of her home. Bruce urges that the investigation be pushed, even though he has begun to fear it will involve his brother in scandal. He offers a reward of twenty thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Jane Simmons, Bruce's faithful secretary, is poisoned in a restaurant by a young woman who assists her back to the judge's office and volunteers to substitute for her. She calls herself Mary Allen.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.

BRUCE IS AROUSED.

The distaste on Bruce's face was unmistakable. The quiet with which he replied was also expressive of the increasing effort at self-control he was exerting.

"Let me understand. We were talking of the cottage. Then you changed to Miss Allen. And now what is it you want?"

"To hear her talk."

"Nothing is more important than your brother's case."

"Granted. But what has Miss Allen to do with it?"

"That's what I want to find out."

Bruce put the watch back into his pocket. Both men were standing now and Bruce came quite close to the Goldfish.

"For a few moments," he said slowly, "I thought that it was I who was losing my sense of reality. I caught myself wondering if you really intend somehow to connect Miss Allen with the subject of the cottage. Now I see that is actually in your mind!"

His opinion of the insanity in such a thought was clear enough even without words. Shrewdly it found its way to the Goldfish this time; and Bruce should have read warning in the flare of the man's nostrils and the look in his eyes.

"That's not exact," Mary Allen said quietly.

"You forget that I lived a whole month in that cottage!"

Bruce's breath stopped; but that was because his next breath would have brought with it a dangerous explosion; and he had checked it barely in time. Nervously he laughed to insure further his rather shaky control of himself.

"I will try to do justice to your peculiar logic. But first I must understand it. Let me see. The first knowledge you had of Miss Allen's existence was on the day she began working for me. I mentioned her over the telephone as the one whom I had sent to the Bibliophile club to find out who had bought number 43 of their limited edition of 'Aucassin and Nicolette,' as you asked me to. If I remember right you were interested in the fact that instead of transcribing 'disregard the testimony of Benham,' she wrote instead the word 'Pelham.' Well, for the sake of the argument, let us call this significant.

"Your next experience with Miss Allen was—unless there is something I do not know about—a quarter of an hour ago in my office. And on the basis of these two—let us call them contacts—you undertake to connect Miss Allen with the murder of my brother?"

There was in inflection of patience in his tone now that was irritating the Goldfish.

But instead of replying he turned to the door of the outer office quickly and in another moment would have opened it. As he had not taken his hat it was clear that he meant to call Miss Allen himself. But Bruce barred his way.

Their faces were close together. Something emerged in the look of Bruce, something that broke through training and discipline. It was a young man now eyeing another starkly for a combat; gauging not chances but blows, surveying him with a perceptible lift of the lip, an atavistic snarl. However, he still held himself in hand.

"You know, Galt, you're an immoral influence. You affect me badly. Here I am by vocation committed to law and order. And here you are tempting me to do something I may be ashamed of! You'd better go!"

He strode to the door that led directly into the corridor. "Hereafter anything in connection with the case you had better take up with Deputy Commissioner Fleurot! Good day!" Bruce said.

He opened the door and waited for the Goldfish to leave. The Goldfish went to the door but stopped squarely in front of Bruce and looked into his eyes as a physician would in search of symptoms in utter disregard of a man as a whole. Deliberately he studied him.

"Yes," he said at last. "You are afraid!"

"Of what?" Bruce asked with that polite patience he had found so effective in goading the Goldfish.

"What I may find out about Miss Allen."

Bruce's control broke but it was into laughter that he exploded. It was genuine, the shout of merriment and its reverberation. He was still laughing as crossing his room he opened the door to the outer office.

"Miss Allen," he called, his face working with an effort to control his amusement, "won't you come in and talk to us? I have been telling Mr. Galt about the way you handled Janvier and got him to give Gray another chance. Galt wants to hear some more about it."

He found her standing at the filing cabinet, very close to the door he had opened. The first thing that impressed him was the pallor in her face. Then the change of her expression. His mental comment was:

"First Jane, then she. What a slave driver I am! I'll have to see to it."

She closed the filing cabinet slowly and went to her own desk where she looked for her notebook and pencil. The Goldfish in the next room without having to look decided she was playing for time, time to compose herself.

"Why no, Miss Allen, you needn't bother with the note book," Bruce said. "We just want to chat."

She came into the room quietly and sat down in the chair Bruce held for her. Bruce stared at the Goldfish. One of the man's astonishing changes of aspect made him scarcely recognizable. He had ensconced himself in Bruce's leather easy chair, his head comfortably back, his legs crossed, ease of mood in every line of his body. At Mary Allen's entrance he rose for an instant in deference then relaxed again. Bruce could scarcely believe this could be mere acting; or, if it was, that the man had not professional equipment and training.

"That was sound psychology, Miss Allen, your playing on Janvier's illness for an approach to his forgiveness." His tone was genial. "But I'm trying to recollect where it was that I read of a case that began similarly but ended in a manner quite different from the outcome we hope for Gray. It was in some book on probation I must have read somewhere. It was by a man by the name of er—let me see——" He turned to Bruce. "Is there any writer on probation by the name of Thorsten or Furst?"

"I don't remember," Bruce said quietly.

"Well, it doesn't matter," the Goldfish resumed, apparently irritated at his own poor memory. "But it was also about a jewelry worker. Or rather, he was employed in a refinery where sweepings from jewelers' workshops and dental offices were bought. If I remember rightly these sweepings were incinerated and sifted for the platinum, gold, and silver dust which made quite a fortune in such refuse. This man, too, stole for the first time and the employer was prevailed upon to give him another chance. But it proved to be a mistake. For three months later he was involved in another theft of the same kind——"

"That's not exact," Mary Allen quietly said. "I remember the case. It was in Foster on 'Probation.' The subsequent theft was committed by two other employés who when caught tried to force the blame on him. Their hope was that his previous conviction would help them. But it was definitely proved that this time he was innocent."

BY MAE TINEE.

Good morning!

In "The Crystal Cup," which has been adapted from Gertrude Atherton's story, Dorthy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall are again teamed to good advantage. Mr. Mulhall hasn't a great deal to do, but his mere presence seems what is needed to jounce enthusiasm into this fair vis-a-vis.

The rôle of Gita Carteret is suited to her because it calls for indifference of attitude and immobility of face. Gita has had a sad childhood, during which time she has learned to believe that all men are pawing, mauling beasts. As she grows to womanhood the determination never to marry grows with her. She is the despair of her friends and her wealthy and aristocratic grandmother, whose sole heir she proves later to be, for, while she moves in society she—so to speak—moves alone, discarding feminine fripperies for mannish raiment and spurning the male of the species as something always dangerous, and, as a rule, deadly poison.

Until—Goeffrey Pelham comes into her scheme of things! And—Eustace Bylant, the author—whom she marries in name only.

After that she learns a lot. The ending is beatific.

The picture is nicely done and quite beautiful in spots. I don't know if it's true to the original story, but it holds the interest and has an air.

"Life of Riley" Trifle Vulgar, but Funny

This is another of those pictures where, to speak broadly, they spit to express humor. Since "The Big Parade" no comedy has been considered au fait unless at least one character in it can spit skillfully, portray mal de mer realistically, or do things with his food at table in a manner calculated to make the observer feel he never wishes to eat again. I admit I'm a lot more sensitive to this sort of thing than many, but probably not more so than—many—and I'm getting awfully tired of seeing films that make me sick at my stomach.

Aside from its vulgarities, "The Life of Riley" stacks up as quite an up and coming farce comedy that will, undoubtedly, cause multitudinous sides to shake. A little chap who sat next me when I viewed it had continuous, if quiet, hysterics all to himself. All Messrs. Murray and Sidney needed to do was to show the light of their funny phizes to set him off. They are comical, most of the time, if not all of it.

Murray's Riley is a fire chief who invented a fire extinguisher. Sidney's Myer is a police chief. Both love the same buxom widow, who, for a brief, troubled period, falls for the dubious charms and blarney of a demon photographer who is also an expert at the old army game.

Myer has a son. Riley acqires a daughter. A great man comes to see the extinguisher extinguish. The demon photog gets busy . . . the life of Riley is one of crowded hours. . . . !

Much enthusiasm on the part of all distinguishes the acting. The action pops and sizzles and knows no quiet moments. So——

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question William Schulz, 6947 Oleander parkway, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do the "Stop and Go" signals regulate your walking, as they do your driving?

The Answers.

Joseph Hawrilitz, 1621 Division street, Y. M. C. A., electrician—They do to a certain extent. That depends upon the location. Within the loop and certain other streets in the immediate vicinity, the signals are my guide; but if on the outside, with a few exceptions at congested places, there is no special need to be governed by the signals.

Mrs. F. E. Busbey, 9144 South Hoyne avenue, housewife—They certainly do. When my husband and I were down at Nashville this summer we found they are more strict with the signals than they are here. There the policemen demand that pedestrians obey the signals. We learned our lesson and now are quite obedient.

B. B. Brewer, 140 South Dearborn street, real estate—They do; because I realize in driving that the pedestrians unconsciously slow up traffic, and for that reason I use care to observe the signals when I am one of the pedestrians. If this rule were universally observed it would prove of benefit to both driver and pedestrian.

Mrs. G. P. Williams, 4842 Blackstone avenue, housewife—I don't know; I believe they do. They should, because it is obvious that if every one were to go by the stop and go signals there would be fewer accidents. And there would be a far greater freedom from worry about either hitting some one or being hit.

Joseph A. Nolan, 3828 South Throop street, salesman—One thing sure, they should. And the police ought to arrest those who cross the streets when the lights are against them. The autoist is in duty bound to obey signals and dozens of other rules and regulations. Pedestrians can show no reason for being exempt.

$250,000 Given at Meeting for Relief of Jews

Dr. Rosen Tells Success of Farm Movement.

A half dozen Jewish leaders of Chicago, last night responded to pleas for aid from suffering members of their race in Europe by contributing $250,000 for purposes of constructive relief. The pledges were made at a conference of the United Jewish campaign in the Standard club.

The sum is the first installment of a $7,000,000 total promised by 400 delegates to the constructive relief conference. They expect to raise this amount by Dec. 31, 1928, to carry on the work overseas. Organizations conducting the campaign will be the joint distribution committee and those composing the United Jewish campaign.

Donors of the amount pledged last night were Julius Rosenwald, Samuel Deutsch, Sol Kline, Jacob M. Loeb, William Hirsch, and James Davis.

A notable agricultural experiment—the transplanting of 20,000 Jewish city dwellers to farm lands in Russia and Poland—was described in a report submitted yesterday by Dr. Joseph A. Rosen.

After centuries of trading and shopkeeping in cities it was a return for the Jewish nation to the simple living, land tilling race of Biblical days, Dr. Rosen said. As he told of the unusual success of the colonization, many of those present noted that the situation he described was analogous to a great American problem. In discussion that followed it was pointed out that as an indirect result of the conference some solution of the serious need for labor on American farms may be reached.

Dr. Rosen was the founder of the movement to make farmers of the Jews of Russia and Poland. He pointed out that the experiment was a forced one. The Jews were starving in the cities. They were kept alive only by food paid for by Jews in America, who contributed millions for their relief.

Dr. Rosen suggested that the Jews in the cities should migrate to the country. There were millions of acres on the vast plains which had never been touched by the plow. He proposed that the money contributed to the Jewish relief fund be used for the purpose of buying land, farm implements and building materials for the settlers. Most of the money would be not given but lent to the colonists, according to the plan.

There were many objectors, the speaker said. The Jews had come to think of themselves as city dwellers. Some declared it would be degrading to found what they termed a Jewish peasantry.

But the experiment was started in 1923 and to date $3,700,000 has been spent on land settlement work, the report disclosed. The following results were listed:

1. The number of Jewish families in Russia engaged in farming has been increased from 15,000 in 1923 to 35,500 in 1927.

2. The acreage occupied by Jewish settlers has risen from 400,000 to 1,000,000 acres.

3. The settlers actually have created values and accumulated tangible assets. With a total investment of $3,700,000, of which 82.7 per cent was granted in the form of loans for specific purposes, assets valued at $7,500,000 have been accumulated.

The conference ended last night with expressions of confidence by the leaders that the ultimate goal of $25,000,000 sought in the campaign will be reached. Nearly $21,000,000 has now been pledged.

Tito Schipa Tops List of Sunday Music Offerings

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Tito Schipa is back, and better than ever. This tenor eminence preluded his operatic assignments yesterday afternoon by giving a song recital at the Auditorium, and as a ballyhoo for the opera it could not have been improved upon, not to speak of the fact that without reference to the opera or anything else, that voice of his, all velvet and gold, is one of the wonders of the world today. Be it added that he not only has a super-quality voice, but he is a singer of songs with heart and intelligence.

His only fault is that in a recital he gives too much. Here was a program that ran from "Il mio tesoro," out of "Don Giovanni," to Fourdrain's "Carnaval" on the printed list, and in encores from "Where'er You Walk" in English to "O Sole Mio" in Neapolitan. Seldom do you get so much for the price of one recital ticket. His accompanist, Frederick Longas, assisted as soloist in a number of works by Spanish composers, including himself, playing them brilliantly and well.

Two pianists contributed importantly during the afternoon to the value of the keyboard in musical art. Charles Naegele, at the Goodman, was a newcomer, but he probably will not be a newcomer long. Introducing himself with the Bach-Busoni Prelude and Fugue in D, he demonstrated at once that he is an artist full grown and large sized. Here were hands and brains, broad lines and contrast, dignity and warmth, in other words, Bach playing of the first class.

Meanwhile Marguerite Melville Liszniewska was at the Playhouse. She was heard in a group of Chopin mazurkas which she played daintily, delicately, and imaginatively, though with rather too much variance of tempo for the dance feeling which after all is the basis of these works.

Passing next door to the Studebaker, Eusebio Concialdi, the baritone, was singing a group of songs by Isaac Van Grove, his accompanist. "The Road to Vaux" was a stirring setting of the words first made public under the editorship of R. H. L. "She's a Winsome Wee Thing" has music amply described by its own first line, "Prospice," as a scena and aria, has some good material that will be the better for a bit of recasting. Mr. Concialdi's excellent voice, honest manner of singing, and good English interpreted them admirably.

John Greene, a colored baritone, appeared at Kimball hall, disclosing a light voice of good quality and training. Hahn's "L'Heure Exquise" was sung excellently; Tschaikowsky's "Serenade de Don Juan" seemed to present some difficult problems for soloist and accompanist alike.

Salvation Army Puts Doughnuts on Sale Today

Army Delicacy to Help Drive for Funds.

Hundreds of women workers, recruited from society and from humbler walks of life, will be on hand early this morning to meet pedestrians with the request to "please buy a doughnut to help the Salvation Army." Through the efforts of Mrs. W. H. Scriven, co-chairman with Mrs. E. R. Fifield of the women's division of the Salvation Army drive for funds, the city has been thoroughly organized.

Doughnut day, as the drive has been designated, is named in remembrance of the service given during the world war to the American soldiers in France.

"The service rendered abroad is now continued in a larger measure by the Salvation Army among the poor and friendless," Mrs. Scriven said. "Let each citizen save a little from his luncheon to buy a doughnut. Giving that little will enable the Army to continue to serve."

Through the courtesy of Brig. Gen. Michael J. Lenihan of Fort Sheridan and Commander Bidwell of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, army and navy trucks have been placed at the disposal of the Salvation Army for the day. These will be driven about the city, manned by soldiers and sailors, who will aid Salvation Army lassies in staging tableaux, in which the doughnut plays a prominent part. A Salvation Army band will be carried along to furnish music.

The parade of the trucks will start from the Michigan boulevard bridge at 11:45 a. m. and proceed southward through the loop. Stops will be made at street corners to make sales. Society girls and young women from loop shows will help in selling the doughnuts.

Among the women who will aid Mrs. Scriven in packing doughnuts into baskets at the headquarters, 336 North Michigan avenue, are Mrs. W. E. Clarke, Mrs. Ogden T. McClurg, and Mrs. Murry Nelson.

Service club and Junior league girls will be among the girls stationed on loop corners. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, Mrs. John Farwell III., Mrs. Lawrence Williams and Mrs. Charles Fargo. Miss Francine Larrimore, star of the play, "Chicago," will make a five minute appeal for funds at the Board of Trade during the noon hour.

For the first time in the history of Salvation Army drives here, an organization of colored women has been perfected to canvass the south side. Mrs. Jesse Binga, wife of the banker, is in charge of the group.

According to leaders of the drive, they hope to realize $367,500, less than half the amount the Salvation Army will expend in Chicago during the coming year. The remainder of the $750,000 budget will be made up by various self-supporting enterprises of the organization. The budget represents an increase of $48,500 over last year, it was said.

Ancient Cab to Be Society's Equipage to Onwentsia Hunt

BY NANCY R——.

Without doubt one of the most amusing and unique equipages on view next Sunday at the Onwentsia hunt will be that in which the Paul Harpers and their guests go to watch the excitement.

For I hear the Harpers have had a gift—cab, not horse—and the presentation came about in this way:

Charlie Walker, son of the late Judge Walker, went to spend a week-end with them soon after they had moved into the charmingly remodeled barn which serves them as a house on their farm out on St. Mary's road, between Lake Forest and Libertyville. One of the week-end chores and diversions was to plow a field, and the Messrs. Harper and Walker attached the "plow" to Roseart, the steed they'd purchased from a neighboring farmer and set to work. At the end of the day the field resembled a down quilt, with its weaving and wavering rows, whereupon Mr. Walker announced that it had all been a fearful mistake. Roseart was no farm animal, but a cab horse.

The following week-end, when he and another guest arrived at Wind farm, they made such a clatter that the whole household rushed out to greet them, only to find a fine cab, vintage '91, hitched to the back of their car. They had bought the cab in town and towed it out behind them the whole thirty odd miles.

Roseart was immediately put to the test, and despite the fact that impromptu carriage harness had to be rigged out, the horse and cab and its four occupants made a satisfactory tour 'round the countryside, paid a score of calls at neighboring places, and made a great hit. And so delighted was every one concerned that the last two days have been spent in putting a new coat of paint on the cab and a new set of trappings on Roseart, so that this coming Saturday-to-Monday group of guests at Wind farm may go to the hunt in truly elegant style.

Mrs. John Alden Spoor of 1526 State parkway is expected to return the end of this week from her summer stay at Hyannisport on Cape Cod, Mass. Mrs. Spoor's daughter, Mrs. Thornhill Broome, who with the Broome children, John Spoor, Betty, and Caryl Broome, was with her at Cape Cod, has gone to Pass Christian, Miss., for the winter, where she and Mr. Broome have a house.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilhelm L. Baum are in their residence at 1508 State parkway after more than a year's absence. The Baums were abroad for nearly a year, and since their return have been at their country place, Longcroft, near South Haven, Mich.

Mrs. Baum's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick Adams, returned recently from a lengthy sojourn in California. Their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crane, formerly of Pasadena, have come on to make their residence here after an absence of 10 years. They have taken the house which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. S. Newton purchased at 25 Scott street last year and never occupied. The Newtons have gone to Seneca for the winter.

Dr. W. P. Finney and his family of Rochester, Minn., who occupy the S. Wheeler house at Lake Geneva each summer, are remaining in the country until the middle of November, although most of the summer places are closed. Mrs. Finney was Miss Theodora Wheeler, whose mother is a daughter of the late Julian Rumsey, one of the earliest of Lake Geneva summer residents and a pioneer Chicagoan. Judge and Mrs. Nathaniel Sears have left Glenfern at the lake and are now at Daytona Beach, Fla., for the winter.

Face Steaming Is Beneficial for Greasy Skins

A correspondent inquires about the value of face steaming to improve the quality of the skin.

A normal, healthy skin is better off without any steamings at all. But with a greasy, dirty skin an occasional steam bath is of use in helping to clean it.

The best way to go about giving it is to cover the head with a large towel and hold the face over a basin of hot water until perspiration starts freely. It is unwise to continue after the face has once become reddened.

The whole value of the steaming is to produce a free flow of perspiration, which will cleanse the face more thoroughly than washing with hot water.

But no skin rejuvenation accomplishments may be credited the treatment. On the contrary, if indulged in too frequently, it relaxes the skin and makes it sensitive and easy to chap. Cold water is the thing to use to protect skin against sensitiveness and to keep it tense and firm.

Some people prefer the treatment to be given with hot towels applied directly to the face—towels that have been wrung out in steaming hot water. And if the face is hardened to this treatment, it may be continued, although the milder process of holding the face over the steaming bowl is better.

In removing blackheads there is no guarantee that this treatment has any permanent effect, but with some skins where perspiration is difficult to effect in normal ways, it is helpful to get the pores opened so as to make the removal of their contents easier.

But no matter what the quality or texture or the blemish that you are trying to remedy, after the steaming the face should be protected by a cold water submersion, and by a little cold cream to offset any possible drying effect.

If the cold water and cream applications are adhered to, there is no harm in indulging at intervals of twice a week in the perspiration producing steam bath for the face.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Senator and Mrs. Charles S. YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Spoiled Darlings.

Training can't do everything, but it can do a great deal. Often it can turn the scales in the right direction.

Whatever influence our handling of our children may have on their future we cannot know, but it behooves us to do the best we can for them on general principles, with a certain amount of faith that we can correct what's wrong. What started me thinking along this line was the remark of a friend and also some observations of my own.

"It's odd," said my friend, "Jane has always been so strict with her little girls, but with that boy she's a different woman. He's absolutely spoiled. She's just 'soft' with him. She doesn't even correct him when he needs it."

I knew the crisp, practical young woman to whom she referred, and I thought, "One more." I have known so many others—and whether they would have been spoiled anyhow or the "softness" did it, I don't know—but it is a coincidence that the results had not in any of the cases been such as to make a mother proud.

There were the three older sisters whose younger brother, naturally self-indulgent enough, had been indulged in every whim by his mother, and shielded from the consequences of every offense, slight or serious. He is just 20, and his life is already marred, if not ruined.

There is the old lady who had a large family of sons and daughters. The latter who cherished her with affection and money—she was a widow—she loved in a perfectly matter of fact way. But the sons who lived lives of selfishness and improvidence she adored, catered to with meals at all hours, and condoned every fault.

It is scarcely necessary to go further. We all know the havoc that can be wrought by unwisely adoring mothers.

And nothing could be worse for these sons. Occasionally they are made of such good sturdy stuff that it only makes them a trifle soft, a little lazy, quite selfish, and very hard for their wives to live with when that time comes. But mostly it has a distintegrating effect on them. If they have not much stamina, it tends to eat away what they have, whereas a loving but sane and salutary treatment might make men of them.

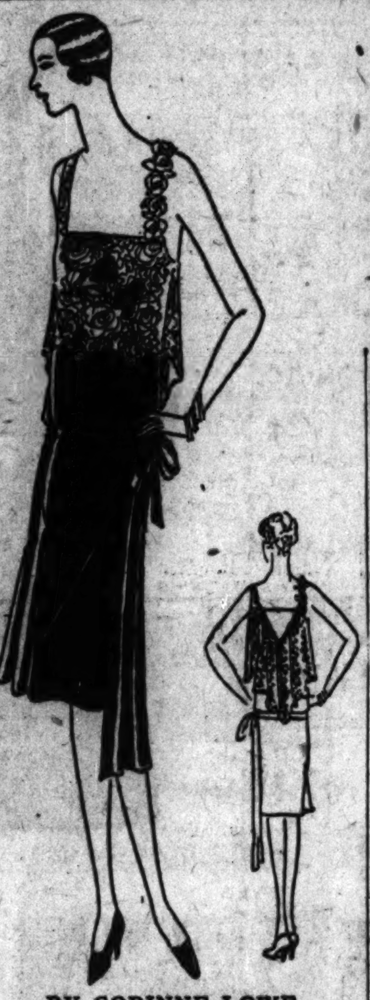
This Charming Gown Is Straight from Paris



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—And here is how Chanel makes up the bertha for the evening train! This is one of the most famous dinner gowns which the great Parisian couturier has created for us this season and one finds in it a strong reflection of the "age of elegance" promised for the autumn.

The bertha that makes this gown of transparent black velvet of outstanding interest is heavy cream lace and in the back it is developed into a loose point which might deceive the casual observer into thinking it a cape. For one shoulder strap the lace does duty, while the other comes to a more ornate conclusion in those lovely white chiffon gardenias that form the strap.

It is details like this bertha and the snowy gardenias which really make the charm of many a modern evening dress. Otherwise, you see, the model is exceedingly conservative. The night train to which I referred is, in fact, only that familiar bit of side drapery falling here about five inches longer than the skirt proper. This drapery is shirred at the top and the looping of a narrow girdle of self-material attends the process.

As a balance for the other side, we find an inset section which mounts to a point at the top and which contributes the required fullness to the hemline. And before leaving this model do not overlook the importance of the black gown as a factor in the modish evening.

To Make a Sick Child Happy.

"My little 10 year old daughter has been ill for nearly a year and a half with heart trouble, part of this time having been spent in the hospital. She is not able to be out of doors and playing with the other children, but she is interested in music. She has had a few piano lessons and, since the doctor has said we must keep her happy and quiet, I have been wondering if there is some one among your readers who would give her the piano lessons we cannot afford.

Milkless Cheese Pie.

Here is an excellent recipe for cheese cake, or pie, with an explanation of why I am not an authority on the subject. During the almost eighteen years in which I have been verifying and choosing and sometimes developing almost new recipes, the requests for a fine recipe for cheese cake (since it has a pastry crust, we may call it pie) have found me unprepared. Yet I have bought cheese cakes—handsome to look at, thick or deep ones which cut like a perfect pastry cream—in Atlantic City, San Francisco, and intermediate points, but they have all seemed to me off flavor.

In my kitchen from time to time I have myself made, or had made, cheese cake or pie by this or that recipe from reliable sources, but have never cared much for the products secured. Therefore, my recommendation on this subject is not worth much, but here is what I think: Cheese cakes or pies are best of flavor if they are made without the addition of sweet milk but, mind you, I may change my mind on this subject tomorrow, given just cause.

Perhaps there are no recipes for any similar product that vary as widely and greatly as do those for cheese cakes. Therefore, a comparison of them is difficult unless each formula is put into concrete reality.

The following recipe coming from an advertising source, but recommended by a woman of high training, was tried out the other day because the statement was made that it made "the most delicious cheese pie of this sort that I have ever eaten!" Two cups smooth cottage cheese, one cup sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, three eggs, juice of half a lemon, a pinch of salt, one tablespoon of melted butter, one level tablespoon cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon of cinnamon, one-fourth cup of raisins. Beat the eggs thoroughly, then add the rest of the ingredients and bake in an uncooked shell pastry until set. Another "I" considers this excellent.

A glance at this recipe will show that it is somewhat shy of directions, especially if one does not understand or note the word "smooth." In order to make a cottage cheese smooth it should be soft and not a hard one.

A way to make the cheese "smooth" is to sieve it and then blend it with cream, or in this case since the recipe contains no cream one could use the egg yolk for this purpose.

Dynamite Needed to Pry This Husband from His Hearthside

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Your advice," Evelyn writes, "'If your spouse likes to step out, step right out with him,' is good stuff, but will you tell me what to do with a husband who never wants to step out with his wife?

"I'm that wife, 30, and married two years. My husband never wants to go out unless it is to see his family or mine. He is only 32. When I complain of not going anywhere he asks why I don't invite company in. I like to be entertained as well as do the entertaining.

"He doesn't dance, but shouldn't he take me once in a while to a place where they dine and dance. I'd enjoy just being there. I can go out afternoons for recreation as he suggests, but a woman wants a husband to accompany her.

"I have no children. He provides for me well, but my life is empty for companionship. I would just as soon go to the theater as to a dance if he'd like it better, but he says we can't afford it.

"Do you think it is fair to each other to sacrifice all pleasure while we are young in an endeavor to save money for the future?"

The great difficulty with most of us humans is learning to do things in moderation. We spend recklessly or we save to the point of stinginess. Some of us can hold to one program or the other through an entire lifetime and others of us have periodical attacks of spending followed by attacks of saving, in each instance running to extremes.

Those wise persons who work out their living programs on budget plans have a place for amusement on the list. And they take their recreation as a necessary item in the business of living, which it is. It may be that illness or some other lsroad on the finances will call for retrenching on the amusement fund. This is accepted gracefully when one knows that it is a deprivation to be met by both.

It is just as bad to spend nothing on recreation as it is to spend beyond one's means. A couple, 30 and 32, in fair circumstances should indulge in company other than their own. They should, if they can afford it, have a fund for pleasure. And the husband should not expect his wife to be content to sit home night after night, year in and year out. It's an optimist of the first water who, these days, fondly believes he can keep a woman contented on such a program.

Women's Frocks Elect the Details of Chanel and Patou for Chic

THESE frocks are replicas of certain successes of those two famous couturiers and are responsive to the new phase in Paris fashions—the note of elaboration held in restraint and simplicity.

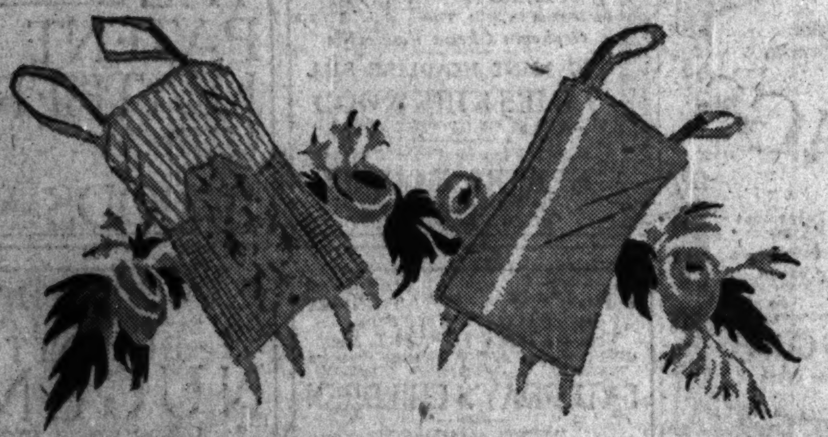
Frock at Right Is $45

Patou was the creator of this style. Bands of satin crepe are used on both sides and alternated. A graceful side cascade at the skirt and blouse is accented in rhinestones. In black and Patou plum.

Fourth Floor, North, State.



Cleverly Designed Corsets, $5

Third Floor, East.

A Different Combination in Lingerie, $4.75

Satin Bloomers $5.50

Third Floor, North, State.

Debutante

HATS inspired by the most recent creations of the foremost French modistes—very quickly after their Paris debut come their reproductions to the French Shop. They tell the important note—"youth"—in their small, close-fitting style in the new turn of a brim or in rhinestone, feather or glistening satin trimmings.

Hats for every occasion of the season.

A Costume Ensemble With Kit Fox $165

REPEATS the mode in coat and frock that have a complementary smartness. Richly but simply developed in broadcloth with satin crepe. Sketched directly at left. In sizes for both women and misses.

The Frock—

In one piece, but it effects the smart new tunic style. The "blouse" is of satin crepe and joins a "skirt" of broadcloth with silk braid and embroidery.

The Coat—

The full length coat is deeply furred in kit fox. With the frock it is exceedingly striking for all day occasions. In black and French blue.

Fourth Floor, East.

Navy Blue and Exactly The Right Shade in Silk Hosiery

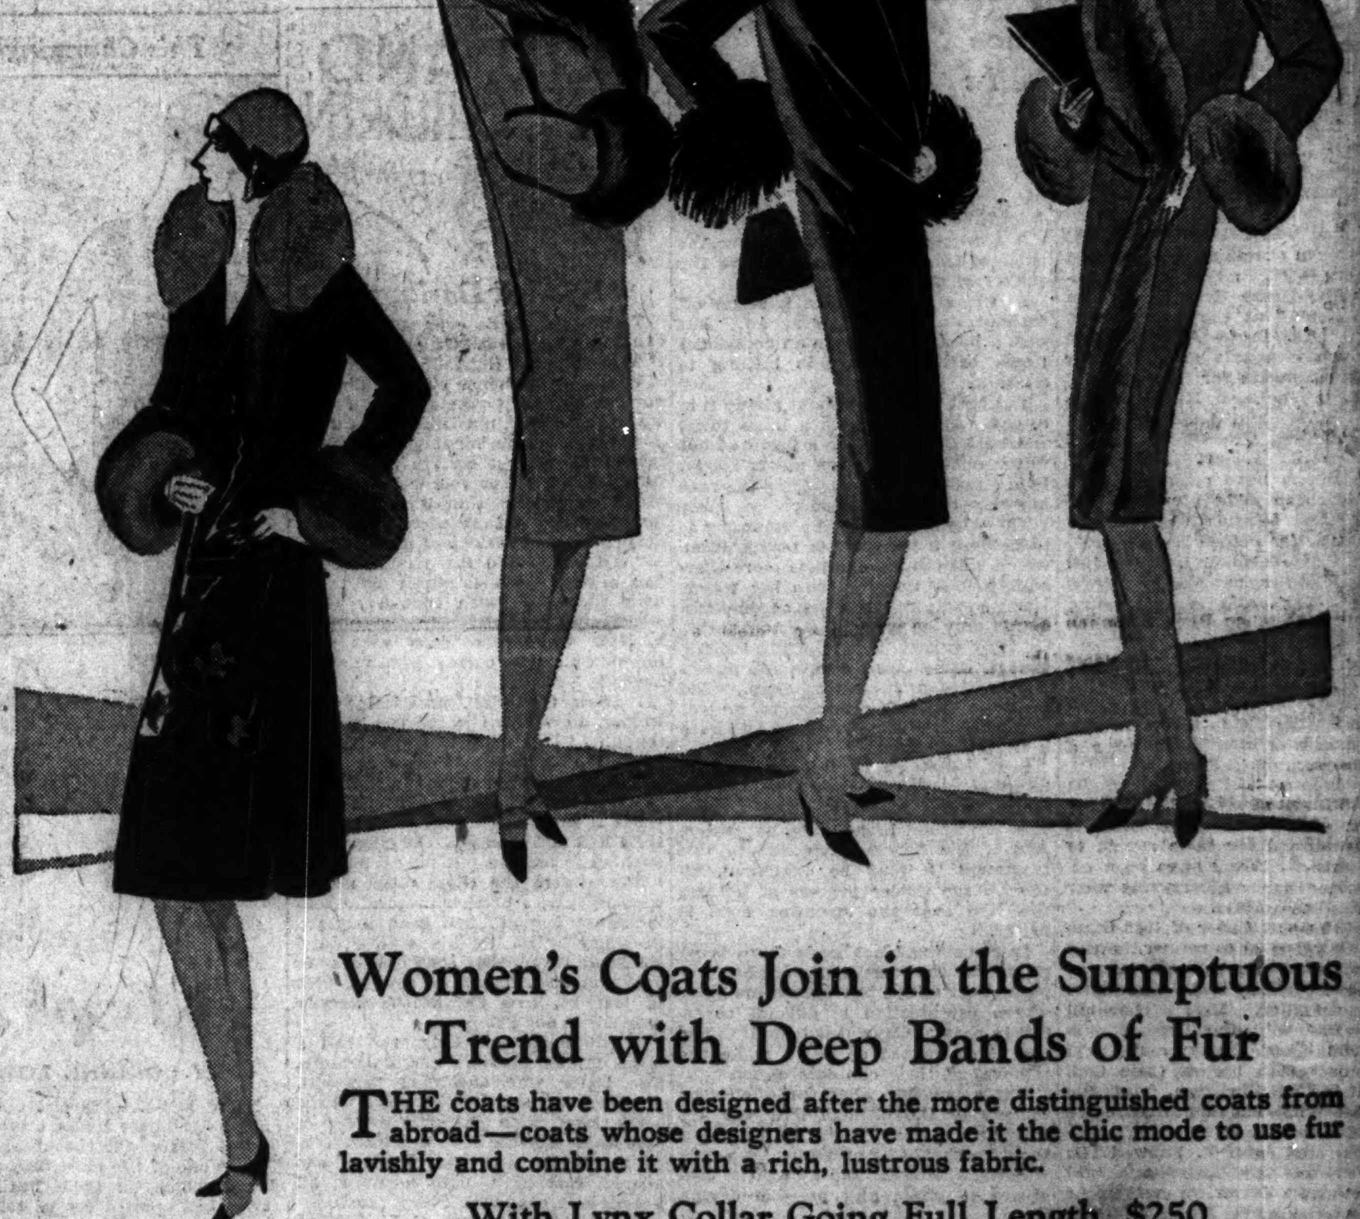
WOMEN have long looked for this deep tone in navy blue—absolutely without the purple nuance. These stockings also have the much-desired black heels. All silk—with reinforcements and interlinings of lisle. $2.50.

First Floor, North, State.

The Personal Greeting Christmas Card

IT may so easily be the outstanding one among the others bringing glad greetings. Outstanding because its individuality reflects an early choice made with great care. But now is the time to make such a choice. Now when the foreign boxes just opened bring so many such lovely cards—scarcely to be had a little later. And, then, workmanship is finer with ample time.

Wabash Avenue, East.



Women's Coats Join in the Sumptuous Trend with Deep Bands of Fur

THE coats have been designed after the more distinguished coats from abroad—coats whose designers have made it the chic mode to use fur lavishly and combine it with a rich, lustrous fabric.

With Lynx Collar Going Full Length, $250

With a Deep Shawl Collar of Fox at $145

Silks—Velvets—Woolens

Satin Crepes Brocaded, $4.50

These fine fabrics are all silk and 40 inches wide, have a distinctive richness in the new warm colors. $4.50 and up to $8.50 yard.

Canton crepes in a heavy all-silk quality are finely adapted to afternoon frocks and the more tailored ensembles. 39 in. wide. $3.50 yard.

Imported Broche Velvet, $6.50

Broche velvets, imported, are sumptuous in effect in solid colors and two-tone combinations. The 35-inch width, $6.50 yard.

Black transparent velvets, silk and rayon, so important in the formal mode, are in the 36 and 39-in. widths, and are priced from $10.50 to $14 yd.

Wool Coatings Plaid Back, $12.50

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

After three hours of wild riding, during which time fifteen laps were gained, the German-American team of Otto Petri and Norman Hill led the six day bicycle race at the Coliseum at midnight.

The field of fifteen teams was split into four divisions with six of the combinations three laps behind the leading team. Goosens and Van Nek and Kockler and Merkner topped the second section of four teams, which are one lap behind. Rene and Marcel Boogman, the Belgian road team, led the third section, two laps back, while F. and A. Zucchetti topped the fourth section.

Although some weak efforts were made to start jams shortly after the race started at 9 o'clock, it was not until the seventh sprint that the real jamming of the night started. Eddie [illegible] started it and carried it into the eighth dash when Rene Boogman went out in front and led the riders around the track at a dizzy pace.

Winter Starts Jam.

After the field had caught the Belgians, Charley Winter took the lead, but was soon caught and passed by Reggie McNamara. The wild riding continued until after the sprints and when the riders finally called quits, six of the teams had been lapped.

No sooner had the announcement been made than another jam was started. Bobby Walthour, who has Franco Georgetti as a partner, started it and again the riders pedaled around the oval at a dizzy pace. Jam after jam was put on and at the finish seven of the teams had gained laps.

The riding of Petri and Hill was easily the feature of the jam. No sooner had this team gained one lap than it set out and put another on the field. They caught the field napping after stealing one circuit and before the relief riders could get under way Petri and Hill had gained the second lap.

A few attempts to start another jam failed because of the alertness of the riders. Petri and Hill have a three lap advantage on six of the teams. Included in this division is Carl Stockholm and Franco Georgetti, one of the strongest combinations in the race.

Ernest Kockler and Eddie Merkper, the Chicago team, did some splendid riding. They were well up in all the jams and are tied for second place with Goosens and Van Nek, who are one lap behind the leaders. Merkner especially appears to be riding stronger and can last longer in the jams. Kockler showed flashes of his old time form and was a factor in all the jams.

Spencer Shows Speed.

The riders will be in condition for the strenuous jamming in a day or two. Most of them are riding themselves into condition and by tomorrow should be able to stand the terrific jamming which is sure to feature this race. The field is one of the best, if not the best, which ever competed in a six day race in Chicago.

The teams were sent away by a rolling start after they were introduced. Worth Mitten fired the starting gun. Henry Horan led the field on the first lap and Rene Boogman crossed the line in the lead at the end of the first mile. Rene Boogman also started the first jam, which did not last long. Then Walthour, De Clerck, and Wynsdau set out to steal laps, but these jams were cut short.

During a jam which was started by Franco Zuchetti and then taken up by Carl Stockholm, Merkner and Hanley locked handle bars on the north turn and fell. The race was stopped for a short time on account of an injury to Hanley's left ankle. Stockholm and Spencer almost had their lap when the race was stopped by Referee [illegible].

COOPER, WITH 283, WINS OKLAHOMA OPEN GOLF TITLE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Harry Cooper of Los Angeles today won first money of $1,000 in the Oklahoma City open golf tournament, shooting the 72 holes in 283. Al Espinosa of Chicago, winner of the tournament last year, was second with 286. [illegible] Smith, a 19 year old youngster of Jefferson City, Mo., shot 288 for third money.

FOUR REMAINING FOES WILL FEEL WILDCATS' CLAWS

Purple Seeks Revenge for Defeat by Illini.

An undiscouraged, although saddened, Northwestern university football squad declared itself ready yesterday to wreak vengeance upon its four remaining opponents for the setback handed it by foxy Bob Zuppke and his fighting Illini.

The Wildcats were silent as plans were laid to combat Missouri when the Tigers arrive at Evanston Saturday for a "Dad's day" game. Missouri was confident of victory over Southern Methodist Saturday, but was forced to accept an overwhelming defeat, although many of its stars were left at home.

Hanley Optimistic.

Coach Dick Hanley, who was handed his first defeat as a Northwestern coach, was not so sullen, taking the defeat philosophically. He said that the beating would do his squad a world of good and make it a good football team from now on.

He was disappointed with the work of his quarter backs, but said that they would know better the next time. Rather than overconfident, his men were slightly underconfident as game time approached, the coach said, because they feared that Zuppke's tricks would baffle them.

It was evident the players felt the defeat keenly. Tiny Lewis, who was hurt at the start of the second half, was more mentally injured at the thought of having to retire at the critical moment of such an important ocntest than they say he is physically.

Lewis, Fisher Ready Saturday.

Trainer King Brady said last night that both Lewis and Waldo Fisher, fleet end, suffered leg injuries that were mainly bruises incurred by consistent heavy contacts. Both will be able to practice tomorrow, he said, and be in working shape for the game Saturday.

Fisher's sprained wrist, which was hurt in practice early last week, was O. K. for the Illinois game, Brady said, but it was the leg bruises that put him out. All the other Wildcats are in fine physical condition.

With the Maroons out of town Saturday, the Missouri-Northwestern game is expected to draw a near-capacity if not a sell-out crowd. More than 1,000 home rooters are expected to follow the invading team, while another thousand of Northwestern students' fathers will be in attendance as a part of the day's festivities in their honor.

MISSOURI CAPTAIN HURT

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—The ten minutes that Capt. George Flammank, Missouri full back, played in the Missouri-Southern Methodist university game at Dallas probably will keep the giant Tiger leader from playing in the Northwestern game at Evanston Saturday, Coach Gwynn Henry said tonight. Bert Clark, sensational forward pass receiver, who was responsible for Missouri's only score Saturday, again injured his ankle in the ten minutes he was in the game, and he, too, probably will witness the Tiger-Wildcat game from the bench.

Coach Henry realizes the strength of Dick Hanley's eleven, but he is not figuring to be beaten by Northwestern. The Tigers boast of Missouri Valley victories over the Kansas Aggies, Nebraska, and Washington.

The last meeting of Missouri and Northwestern in football was in 1914, when the Purple won 26 to 6.

Jockey Marninelli, Ill and Broke, Kills Self

New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—Little Benny Marninelli, the jockey, known to thousands of race goers as one of the best "money riders" in America, committed suicide here today by turning on the gas in his room. Ill health and financial and domestic troubles were given as the cause for his act. Marninelli came into prominence at the Tiajuana, Mexico, race track seven years ago. He has been riding here for the Marrone stable and R. T. Wilson.

STARTING A SIX DAY RIDE TO NOWHERE

The annual fall six day bicycle race got under way at the Coliseum last night with fifteen two man teams composing the field. The riders were lined up across the track and sent away on the long grind at 9 o'clock. The race will finish at 11 o'clock next Saturday night. The riders who started for their respective teams, as they lined up in the front row for the start, are: Hill, Beckman, Grimm, A. Zucchetti, Kockler, Debaets, M. Boogman, McNamara, Georgetti, Spencer, Wynsdau and Declerck.

Do You Know This Marshall Player?

Marshall High school's football team, undefeated in west section play this season, has one of the fastest and cleverest open field runners in the city. Last Saturday Marshall ran up a score of 89 points on Roosevelt and this player did his share and then some in carrying the ball down the gridiron.

This is the third year of competition for this player and he will graduate in January, 1928. He hopes to enter Illinois university. He attended the Herzel school before entering Marshall.

He also stars in track, where his speed generally assures him of placing in the dashes.

The picture of this player will be printed tomorrow. A player of the Bowen High school team will be the subject of the sixth sketch.

SENN HIGH STAR

Yost to Speak at Rotary Club Luncheon Tomorrow

Fielding H. [Hurry Up] Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, will speak before the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon in the Hotel Sherman tomorrow. He will speak on "The Educational Values in Competitive Athletics." Among those who will be present are Maj. John L. Griffith, Western conference commissioner of athletics.

Gilbert Gains on Almquist as Scoring Ace

(By the Associated Press.)

There are three Western conference teams which have not made as many points all season as Harold Almquist of Minnesota, the touchdown king of the Big Ten at this half way point in the fall campaign. Almquist's total of 67 points is greater than the accumulated points of Ohio, Purdue, or Indiana.

SHORTY ALMQUIST.

Not far from Almquist, who added two more touchdowns against Iowa Saturday, is Louis Gilbert, the all-around star of the Michigan back field, who scored every point made against Ohio State,—three touchdowns, and three successful tries for goal.

The race for leading scorer so far lies between these two, with Tiny Lewis, Northwestern's big full back, trailing. Leading scorers of the conference:

LANE INCREASES LEAD

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Increasing his lead by scoring 14 points against Harvard Saturday, Myles Lane of Dartmouth brought his phenomenal scoring total to 101, just 19 points less than Wilson of Lafayette, last year's leader, made in the entire season.

Thirty-nine points below Lane in second place is Bullet Booth of Pittsburgh. Jack Connor of New York university is third with 56 points, and Nork of Georgetown, who made four touchdowns against West Virginia Saturday, is a single point behind Connor. The leaders:

Grid Expert's Lament, or Ball, Who's Got the Ball

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 23.—Pursuant to some recent admissions of the sport reporters regarding our fallibility in identifying the players in big football games, Mr. Henry Farrell, the sports correspondent of the United Press, has sent me a piece dealing with the subject which he composed for private circulation at some time when he was in a mood to admit that experts are not entirely expert at all times.

My idea was that many a tackle, end run or touchdown is credited to the familiar celebrities of the various teams merely because the press has not been told that the substitute who really did the deed had entered the game. Having sat in press coops where the players were all more or less anonymous because of the mud, the distance, the constant shuffling of the lineups and the errors of the student announcers who are supposed to identify the athletes in each play for the men at the newspaper wires, I owned up to occasions during the college career of Red Grange when the baffled reporters, not knowing who carried the ball for Illinois, would consult hastily and decide, "Oh, hell, let's give it to Grange."

Wire Chief: Listen, brother, these football games are private affairs between private institutions and they hate publicity because it draws crowds. You're lucky to get in.

Wire Chief: Who'd you say you was with?

Expert: Asphyxiated Press.

[Fifteen minutes intermission to find another place. Operator arrives five minutes late and tunes off telegraph set.]

Expert: Who me?

[Expert pulls fancy lead out of typewriter. Blast the wind blows it down into lap of flapper buried under chrysanthemums in stand.]

Flapper to cake eater in coonskin kimono, goggling: O, read this. Isn't it funny? Wonder who he is. He says the green wave is going to twist the tail of the Crimson avalanche. Must be a cub reporter. [A student announcer enters the stand. He has a megaphone and a voice that is the rage of the dramatic club.]

Announcer: Pilkington Smith—Smith kicks off for Harvard. One of their chaps makes the catch. One moment, I'll give you his name. His name's Krausmeyer; amusing name, Krausmeyer.

Announcer—There are five changes in the Harvard lineup. [Among them is Llewellyn Jones—Jones for Smith—Smith.]

Expert—Well then who kicked?

[Game ends in darkness. No lights in press coop. Expert dictates for 45 minutes; leaves stands; discovered he is locked in stadium and is found frozen stiff the next Saturday, which is the best break an expert ever got in the Big Three.]

Injury to Taylor's Hand Postpones Bout with Farr

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 23.—(AP)—An injury to Bud Taylor's hand, sustained while sparring with Johnny Chavez, Los Angeles Mexican, today caused his bout with Johnny Farr of Cleveland to be postponed to Nov. 1. They were scheduled to go ten rounds here next Tuesday.

MAROONS, MORE CONFIDENT NOW, LOOK TO OHIO

Spence Only Casualty of Penn Encounter.

With a feast of three victories under their belts, Coach A. A. Stagg's now confident Maroons today begin preparing for an invasion of Ohio Saturday for the third of their conference games.

BOB SPENCE.

Chicago will be in good shape for a numebr of tough practice sessions this week, and with the no scouting bother a thing of the past, the Maroons will be able to take active work on the Buckeye plays as they are offered by the freshman team.

Team Not Overconfident.

The reports of the scouts who have watched Ohio in action indicate the Maroons will be in for a rough afternoon in the Buckeye stadium, and Coach Stagg plans an even more rigorous practise routine in an effort to keep Chicago's string of victories intact.

Spence Only Casualty.

Only one of the Chicago athletes, Bob Spence, received injury at the hands of Penn. Spence got a hard knock on the back of the head which temporarily paralyzed his breathing apparatus, but he will be in shape to start against Ohio.

While Malcolm Proudfoot, tackle, is likely to remain out of action, Trainer Bentson indicates that Bluhm, reserve quarter back, will be in condition to face the Buckeyes. Vincent Libby also may take part in the game.

Grange Sees Packers Beat Yanks, 13 to 0

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 23.—[Special.]—The Green Bay Packers remained in the chase for the National Professional Football league championship here today by defeating Red Grange's New York Yankees, 13 to 0, before 11,000 spectators. Injuries kept the former Wheaton iceman on the side lines. The Packers scored twice in the first half, Purdy and Enright doing the scoring.

DULUTH, 27; POTTSVILLE, 0

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Ernie Nevers' Duluth team rode rough shod over Pottsville in a National Professional Football league game today, winning, 27 to 0.

The western eleven scored four touchdowns, all of which were the direct result of a continuous aerial attack. J. Rooney was the individual star, tallying three touchdowns. The other was made by Method.

GIANTS BEAT FRANKFORD

PROVIDENCE WINS, 7-0

Providence, R. I., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Providence Steamrollers defeated the Dayton Triangles, 7 to 0, before 6,500 fans in a National Professional Football league game here this afternoon. Bill Pritchard, former Penn State full back, plunged over for the touchdown and place kicked the goal in the third period after a 45 yard march by the Rollers. Passes by "Wildcat" Wilson and Curley Oden paved the way for the score.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Benny Friedman can throw a football. Twenty thousand persons saw Benny's masterful demonstration of forward passing at the Bears' National league game with the Cleveland Bulldogs at Wrigley field yesterday, and although the Bears won, 14 to 12, by the margin of a first quarter safety, the crowd applauded Friedman's passing and generalship and called it good.

Cleveland received the opening kickoff, and Benny got to work. Nine plays later Cleveland had marched 64 yards for a touchdown. That drive was perfect football.

How Cleveland Scored.

Benny's first play was a pass to Cunningham at left end for 16 yards. He followed with a pass to Weberg for 14 yards. Then with the bewildered, hesitating Bears expecting more airwork, Benny shot off tackle for nine yards. Three plunges and the ball was on the Bears' 21 yard line. Twice more Benny worked his driving backs, gaining five yards, then threw a perfect pass to Bacchus on the three yard line and the Cleveland end stumbled across for the score. Friedman's place kick for the extra point was wide.

It was the first time the famous pitcher of that Michigan university battery, Friedman to Oosterbaan, had shown Chicagoans how its's done with a forward pass.

Cleveland Center Errs.

Cleveland made its two point presentation in this same quarter and the safety was the margin of the north side victory. Driscoll's punt put the ball on Cleveland's nine yard line and Center Smith of Cleveland heaved a pass over the goal line out of reach of Weberg, who stood ready to kick out of danger. Weberg recovered behind the end zone.

The Bears found the going difficult and their attack lacked the coördination and precision which characterized it against Grange last Sunday. But they staged a sortie which carried them into the lead at half time. Unable to gain around the Cleveland ends, Cunningham and Munn [the latter replaced Bacchus], who upset everything directed at them, Driscoll went inside of tackle for 20 yards on a quick opening play. Bill Senn duplicated the performance, stopping 15 yards short of the goal. Again Paddy went inside of Tackle Owen and Senn dived the remaining three yards for the score. Driscoll's drop kick was low and the score was 8 to 6 for the Bears.

The second half was a wild session. The Bears duplicated their touch down drive of the second quarter only to have the fighting Clevelanders, minus Friedman who had retired to the side lines in the third quarter, come back and, with the advantage of numerous penalties, drive through the Bear line for another score.

Player Try Pugilism.

Twice in the fourth quarter, players squared off and went to it with their fists. Referee Jim Durfee paced up and down the gridiron marking off the penalties and in between times found occasion to chase Hanny and Healey of the Bears and Feather of the Bulldogs from the game. Hanny, who once tried boxing in his home town of Aurora mixed with Feather, while Healey threw punches at Howard.

Hanny's punting made the Bears' scoring opportunity in the third quarter. Starting from the Cleveland 32 yard line, Romney hit down the sidelines on a cross buck and was stopped four yards from the goal. Cleveland protested that Romney stepped out of bounds but without any results, so after the impromptu Hanny-Feather bout, Romney went over for the touchdown. Joie Sternaman introduced his shoe changing act for the first time this season, but his drop kick for the point was not better than Driscoll's.

Bears Heavily Penalized.

In the last period, after Healey's parade to the sidelines and the referee had stepped off half the distance to the goal line as a penalty, Kelly of Cleveland added 11 yards more. Bloodgood passed to Kelly on the five yard strip and Simmons went through center for the score. Bloodgood kept the drop kicking failure sheet intact by messing up the try for point.

$10,000 FUTURITY NEXT FEATURE ON ARLINGTON CARD

Kentucky Juvenile Stars to Start.

$500 Salary

FIFTEEN winning mounts last week at Arlington park earned the youthful jockey, Hurst Philpot, $500 for his six days of riding. The outstanding bit of work of this 18 year old rider, who began riding last January at Tia Juana, came last Friday when he booted home winners in the first four races. Philpot was born and raised in Nebraska, but started to learn riding around Sacramento, Cal., about a year ago.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The $10,000 Futurity is the next big race on the American National Jockey club's turf program at Arlington park. It will be run on Saturday and will attract most of the good 2 year olds in the country. It is a race which may become one of the richest decided any place in the world for it is the aim of Executive Director H. D. Brown to endow it with so much money that it will each year determine the 2 year old championship.

Mr. Brown's ambitious plans for the Futurity were hurriedly formed on Saturday as he watched 30,000 racegoers from this section file through the Arlington park turnstiles to see the $15,000 American National handicap decided.

Plan to Increase Purse.

This big race which brought Earl Sande out of the east was arranged on short notice. The hurried building of the great track that has aroused the interest of the country made it necessary to arrange a series of stakes with but little advance notice. But all the rich races attracted the best horses in training and when Chicago beat Osmand in the American National he just about clinched the handicap championship of the year.

The Belmont Futurity is worth around $100,000. It is the aim of Mr. Brown to make the American National Futurity even richer than that historic stake. It may be a late summer Futurity rather than a derby or handicap that will provide the biggest race each year at Arlington, Mr. Brown announced last night.

Reigh Count, owned by Mrs. John D. Hertz, is the only leading 2 year old in the country that will not be here for Saturday's Futurity. He was purchased by Mrs. Hertz from Willis Sharpe Kilmer too late to be put into the big 2 year old race here.

Kentucky Stars Coming.

Reigh Count is at Pimlico awaiting the Maryland Futurity and it is possible he may have to beat the American National Futurity winner to capture that rich stake. Misstep, Mickey D., Wisdom, Typhoon, and Birdwood are some of the 2 year olds that will likely come from Kentucky for Saturday's race. And the east will send its best, including two starters from the Rancocas stable, one of which will be ridden by Laverne Fator.

Irish Pal, one of the strong Chicago contenders, trained and owned by Boots Durnell, gets his final Futurity prep in the feature race at Arlington today. He is scheduled to race against such good ones as Alderman Coughlin's Wacker Drive, May Cooper, Noine, Blessefield, Trystel, and Blackwood, all of them eligible to the Futurity. They have raced in Chicago most of the season.

Limit fields are carded to go to the post in every race at Arlington today. It is one of the best cards offered since the new track opened. There is another allowance race at six furlongs on the program and it engages such stars as Big Sweep, Gibbons, Florence Mills, and Sixty.

P.A.
taste

BUY a tidy red tin of Prince Albert, the National Joy Smoke. Throw back the lid and release the most tantalizing aroma you have ever known. Then tuck a load into that old pipe, pack it down, and light up. You're on your way.

Now you're getting it—that wonderful taste of a wonderful tobacco. Cool as a building-inspector. Sweet as the knowledge that you have met his requirements. Mellow and mild as April sun, but with that full, rich, satisfying tobacco-body that you've been hoping to find in a smoke.

And that isn't all. This quality tobacco—the world's most popular brand—is cool and long-burning, right to the bottom of the bowl. That's Prince Albert. Men. I'm here to say that it will suit you and your pipe, too.

PRINCE ALBERT

Becker Offers Tips to Hunter of Small Game

BY BOB BECKER.

Although the warm Indian summer weather has slowed small game shooting [rabbits and squirrels] in middle western states, it won't be long before the first snow will lure thousands of gunners with beagles, springers, and other rabbit "haounds" into the field.

◆

Practically all of the middle western states where cottontails are fairly common have different regulations governing small game shooting, a fact that the traveling hunter should know before he opens with his scattergun.

Here is a brief review of the laws giving the high lights on small game hunting. In Illinois the rabbit season opens Nov. 10. That also is the opening day for pheasants, prairie chicken, and quail. The limit is 15 cottontails per day. The squirrel season is now on. Hunters are limited to 10 squirrels a day.

Indiana's rabbit season opened Oct. 1 and continues through to Jan. 10. The Hoosier state permits the hunter to shoot 10 rabbits and 5 squirrels per day with the exception of "reds." There is no limit on the big red squirrels. In case you are not a resident of Indiana a hunting license will cost you $15.50.

◆

Michigan has a trimmed bag limit on rabbits in comparison to Illinois and Indiana, as in the former state you can take but five cottontails a day and have only 10 in your possession at any time during the season which opens tomorrow. Michigan charges $10 for a nonresident small game license.

M'Tigue Here Today to Train for Walker

Mike McTigue, former world's light heavyweight champion, who meets Mickey Walker, the world's middleweight title holder, at the Coliseum on Nov. 1, will arrive in Chicago this morning and start training this afternoon at the Mullen gymnasium. This information was received yesterday by Promoter James Mullen from the fighter.

Jack Kearns, manager of Walker, arrived in the city yesterday and announced Mickey will not be here until Wednesday. The champion had planned to be in Chicago today to resume training, but Kearns wants him to do all his hard work at the camp in Rumson, N. J.

Kearns had little to say about the recent action of the National Boxing association commanding Walker to defend his title in sixty days. Kearns said he will agree to have Walker meet any one in defense of the title if some promoter will guarantee him $75,000.

HERB JOESTING.

Successful execution of the forward pass at critical times, combined with excellent judgment in the selection of other offensive weapons, enabled most of the strong football teams of the country to come through last Saturday's struggles on the long end of the scores.

It was this passing game which gave Illinois a victory over Northwestern, 7 to 6, and forward passes had much to do with Pennsylvania's defeat by Chicago. These long tosses permitted Michigan to win over Ohio State and were dominant factors in the victories of Notre Dame over Indiana, Princeton over Cornell, and Dartmouth over Harvard.

With but few exceptions the games throughout the country last Saturday resulted as expected. In the middle west, the 7 to 6 victory of Illinois over Northwestern was the most important. The Orange and Blue eleven, which had been held to a tie score by Ames on the previous Saturday, played sparkling football against the Purple. The Illinois players took advantage of every opening and made every play count.

Illini Mix Attack.

Illinois' march of 73 yards for a touchdown was splendid football. During this attack, plays were mixed nicely and the forward pass was called into use at opportune times. It was a forward pass which resulted in Illinois' touchdown and it was a similar play which placed Northwestern in position to score its points.

The loss of Tiny Lewis early in the second half hurt Northwestern. This player is an excellent full back and is the key to the Purple attack. Lewis played a fine game and his loss was felt immediately by his teammates. The defeat put the Purple out of the running for the Western conference championship.

The value of a capable punter to a football team was shown in the Michigan-Ohio State struggle, which was won by the Maize and Blue, 21 to 0. Louis Gilbert, the Michigan back, whose punting was such an important factor in the Wisconsin struggle, rose to greater heights against the Buckeyes. His well placed punts not only lifted Michigan out of some bad holes but they kept Ohio on the defensive in its own territory most of the game.

Not only did Gilbert do his share toward a Michigan victory by his kicking, but his throwing and catching of forward passes figured heavily in the scoring. Capt. Benny Oosterbaan, who played a great game, was either on the throwing or receiving ends of the passes.

Minnesota recovered from its tie game with Indiana and gave Iowa a trimming, 38 to 0. Capt. Herbert Joesting got back into the lineup for the Gophers and showed some of the line crashing ability he exhibited last year when he was rated the greatest plunging back in the country. Minnesota will be a hard team to beat this year and will improve with every day's practice.

Wisconsin took a 12 to 6 game from Purdue. The Cardinal showed fighting spirit by coming back after a defeat by Michigan to win over a strong eleven. Like Minnesota, the Cardinal will improve as the season wears on and a great game should result next Saturday when Wisconsin and Minnesota meet at Minneapolis.

Chicago, which is showing steady improvement, won from Pennsylvania, 13 to 7. The Maroons' victory was brought about largely by the successful execution of forward passes. Coach Stagg, who appears to have silenced the critics who have claimed he knows nothing about the open game, is developing a strong open attack which will cause trouble for Chicago's future opponents.

Notre Dame Reserves Strong.

Indiana gave a good account of itself although losing, 19 to 6, to Notre Dame. The Hoosiers gave Coach Rockne's eleven a battle for part of the game but succumbed to a more powerful aggregation. Notre Dame came from behind to win as it did against the Navy. Rockne has so much reserve power that there is little difference in ability between the regulars and reserves.

As the western conference situation now stands, Michigan, Illinois and Chicago are in the unbeaten class. Minnesota has not been defeated but the tie game with Indiana, a team which had been defeated by Chicago, is a blot on its record. Chicago was defeated by Oklahoma and Illinois tied by Ames. These results, however, do not impair their Big Ten standing. All other members of the conference have been beaten.

In the east, Princeton came from behind to win a hard fought battle from Cornell, 21 to 10. Bill Roper, the Tiger coach, and one of the first eastern football teachers to see the possibilities of the forward pass, has another smart eleven which is well coached in the open game. The Tigers will meet Ohio State at Princeton on Nov. 5.

Dartmouth Displays Power.

Dartmouth let loose with a powerful close and open offensive to win over Harvard, 30 to 6. Coach Hawley of the Green eleven has given his team a splendid running attack which is varied by forward passes. This sort of offensive bewildered Harvard and accounted for the one-sided victory.

Yale put the Army out of the running for eastern or national championship consideration. Tad Jones' Blue eleven won from the cadets, 10 to 6, after a stubborn battle during which Yale had the better of the going.

Missouri, leader for honors in the Missouri Valley conference met with an unexpected defeat by Southern Methodists, 32 to 9. Kansas Aggies won a hard fought battle from Oklahoma, 20 to 14. Kansas and Washington of St. Louis battled to a 21 to 21 tie and Drake won over Grinnell, 26 to 6. Nebraska had no game scheduled.

On the Pacific coast, Stanford won from Oregon Aggies, 20 to 6, California defeated the strong Olympic club eleven, 21 to 0, and Southern California Tech was victor over California Tech, 51 to 0. California, which has not been defeated this season, has yet to meet Stanford and Southern California.

Georgia Tech, which will be Notre Dame's opponent at South Bend on Saturday, still looms as the most dangerous contender for southern honors. Tech won from North Carolina, 13 to 0. Georgia, another favorite for the southern championship, was victor over Auburn, 33 to 3.

The New York Times.

New York, Oct. 22. —[Special]. — Several illusions in which part of the community has been indulging have been shattered by the course of events last week. One was that the stock market has no necessary relations to business conditions; that it can continue to go up indefinitely even when trade is going down, if only money enough can be borrowed on stock exchange collateral.

The other was that trade, under the supposed new dispensation, always will rise to progressively new heights and never can fall back to reduced activity, no matter what may be the changes or accidents of a season.

Change Forecast Long Ago.

It will not be easy to revive either notion after last week's occurrences. On the stock market the readjustment of prices has conformed so correctly to warnings long repeated from responsible quarters that it need have occasioned no surprise. The trade situation remains perplexing; it will continue so until the actual causes and scope of the reactionary trend are more evident.

The real position, present and prospective, of the motor car industry, taken as a whole, for obvious reasons has grown to be a question in which one man's guess is as good as another's. That steel production since the end of summer has been running substantially below either 1926 or 1925 has long been a matter of public knowledge, but it was left for last week's news to show what has been the precise result on prices. It was frankly admitted by the Republic Iron and Steel, in announcing a heavy decrease in third quarter profits as compared with 1926, that the cause was not only smaller sales but lower prices.

Pittsburgh Cuts Steel Price.

Pittsburgh's price for steel, which was reduced last week to a low point for 1927, was 7¾ per cent below that of a year ago and 13 per cent under the highest of 1925. The Iron Age's calculation of "composite prices" still places the average for steel products 12 per cent or so above the "deflation minimum" of 1922, but it finds that the average for iron products has fallen below even the deflation period, reacting the lowest since September, 1916.

That last week's reduction was accompanied, according to the trade reviews, by a visible increase in orders, may have indicated cause and effect, yet even here it is rather striking that the conservative Iron Age declares the lower prices to be rather "the result of competition among makers than of pressure from buyers."

In some respects the present state of affairs, both in the field of industry and in the speculative markets, is a familiar picture in the panorama of periodical ebb and flow, whether called "the industrial cycle" or by any other name. It has not this time been accompanied by the old time circumstances.

On past occasions of reaction from highly stimulated trade activity, a rising money market almost has invariably cut a figure. Since good or bad crops are mostly accidents of nature, the harvests never have adjusted themselves even to the old-time cycle of prosperity. But very few past chapters of trade reaction have been accompanied by such a turn of good fortune as this season's northwestern wheat crop. To these two conspicuous variations from the traditional formula of falling business activity naturally will be added the fact that methods pursued in the recent high activity of trade have left manufacturers and merchants with small stocks of unsold goods, whereas forced sales of their heavy accumulations by holders of merchandise who had misjudged the market were the characteristic incident of old-fashioned trade reactions.

Coupon Bonds in denomination of $1,000 registerable as to principal. Fully registered Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and authorized multiples thereof. Coupon and registered Bonds interchangeable.

The issuance of these Bonds has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

Ralph Budd, Esq., President of the Great Northern Railway Company, has advised us as follows regarding these Bonds:

The total mileage covered (directly or collaterally) by the General Mortgage is 7,504 miles, constituting approximately 97% of the total mileage of the Great Northern system. No more underlying mortgage bonds may be issued. Stock representing approximately one-half of the ownership of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company is pledged, free from prior lien, under the General Mortgage. Excluding the bonds issued to finance the ownership of the Burlington stock, the mortgage debt of the Company is outstanding at the rate of approximately $29,000 per mile of road, including the present issue.

Year Ended Dec. 31st	Gross Operating Revenues	Income Available for Charges	Total Charges	Net Income after Charges
1923	120,077,772	35,045,252	16,977,305	18,067,947
1924	110,243,104	35,855,165	17,913,564	17,941,600
1925	114,924,960	39,704,431	18,269,034	21,435,396
1926	117,383,909	44,456,099	18,512,843	25,943,256

In the above five years, income available for charges averaged over twice the amount required. The Company's net railway operating income for the first eight months of 1927 amounted to $12,457,702, as compared with $13,757,506 in the corresponding period of 1926.

The Company has outstanding $248,916,550 of capital stock, upon which as outstanding from time to time regular dividends at the rate of at least 5% annually have been paid in every year since 1892. The present dividend rate is 5% per annum.

Since July 1, 1901, the Great Northern has invested more than $506,000,000 in road, equipment and other capital assets; whereas during the same period, the Company's net funded debt has increased by $236,000,000, an amount less than 47 per cent. of the amount added to assets. Of the amount added to assets, more than $128,000,000 was derived from surplus earnings and reserves, and approximately $142,000,000 from capital stock sold at not less than par.

THE ABOVE BONDS ARE OFFERED, SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE AND TO THE CONDITIONS STATED BELOW, AT 99% AND ACCRUED INTEREST TO YIELD 4.55% TO MATURITY.

The right is reserved to reject any or all applications, and also, in any case, to award a smaller amount than applied for. All orders will be received, subject to the issue and sale of the Bonds as planned, and to approval by counsel of the form and validity of the documents and proceedings.

The amounts due on confirmed sales will be payable at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in New York funds to their order, and the date of payment (on or about November 3, 1927) will be stated in the confirmations of sale. Temporary Bonds, exchangeable for definitive Bonds when received, are to be delivered.

STOCK OWNING GROWING FAST SINCE THE WAR

BY HARPER LEECH.

The published statistics of the volume of securities trading and the flotation of capital issues are evidence enough of the vast extension of our financial structure to fit the industries of the new time.

By themselves, however, these figures do not tell whether a few big investors or a multitude of new ones are participants in our expanded financing. As far back as the Pujo money trust investigation the necessity of financial expansion to serve our growing industries was plain enough and was brought out in the communication to the congressional committee by the New York investment institution.

Since that time the merger of commercial banks has proceeded rapidly. But on the other hand the number of investment institutions has multiplied. Concentration in one direction has been offset by decentralization in another.

We have departmentalized banking institutions, performing all of the former specialized functions of finance, and we have a swarm of new distributors and chain store institutions developed to market securities among an ever widening circle of buyers.

We know that when the United States government consulted Wall street investment experts about financing the war there were not 500,000 owners of any kind of securities in the United States. That was ascertained by careful count and study.

The maximum number at any time during the war was about 20,000,000, including the buyers of war savings stamps. The most conservative estimate of the present number of owners of stocks and bonds is around 3,000,000, a six fold gain in ten years. That estimate is by a former treasury official and is based upon analysis of personal and corporation income tax returns. Faith in the adequacy of those returns as a true index of wealth and income is perhaps natural to a government man—but to some of us it suggests naiveté. Certainly a study of the machinery of investment and the marketing of securities today suggests a greater expansion—and we have one corporation which has over 420,000 stock holders—within 80,000 of the entire number of owners of all kinds of securities before the war.

War financing certainly was a major factor in popularizing finance, but it is probable that if the matter had been better handled the stimulus and the effect would have been even more profound. War savings stamps and that type of security, rather than bonds, should have been the principal issue to small buyers.

One opinion advanced by a man who was in a position to know is that there were not over 300,000 people in 1917 and 1918 who should have been advised to "borrow and buy."

That advice given to and taken by untrained millions of investors was largely responsible for inflation later, and then for the loss of money by many small Liberty bond buyers who thus unfortunately became soured on savings and investment.

Tobacco—
In Continuous and Growing Demand

THE stability of the tobacco industry is due to steady, world-wide demand for tobacco products of all kinds in good times and bad. The United States Government considers tobacco so essential that it is included in the daily ration of the American soldier.

During the severe post-war depression earnings of tobacco companies as a class seem hardly affected, when the earnings of other industries are compared with them. Profits of ten large tobacco companies have grown as follows:

YEAR	NET PROFITS
1919	$47,029,531
1920	50,691,843
1921	59,181,424
1922	69,753,920
1923	68,084,000
1924	76,143,718
1925	82,431,140
1926	87,960,502

Because the use of tobacco is so firmly established, companies engaged in its distribution may be regarded as constituting a fundamental industry. Their remarkable showing strengthens the appeal of tobacco securities as conservative investments.

LONDON MARKETS ARE IRREGULAR IN WEEK'S TRADING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The stock markets showed considerable irregularity last week, much forced selling bringing nervousness. Overspeculation was apparent and heavy differences will have to be met on the week's settlements in some of the high priced speculative leaders. Large blocks of stock were thrown on the market Friday following the refusal of dealers to carry over big commitments.

The art silk group was particularly weak, especially British Celanese common stock, which dropped on the week from £5 to £3 18s. Courtaulds also slumped. Tobaccos were heavily liquidated following reports of an American price war coming again, with Imperials chiefly affected. Contrarily, graphophones and gramophones continued their upward flight, the former reaching a record level of 7¼.

British government securities weakened slightly on the flood of new dominion and other foreign government issues, while municipal corporation flotations elicited poor response.

There was disappointment in the rubber market as a result of the colonial office statement that there would be no change in the regulations presently governing the Stevenson restriction scheme, but the share prices were only slightly lower on the week. Teas were less animated, mines had a few features and the interest in oil was idle despite the reports of the discovery of oil in the Iraq Turkish petroleum field, in which American, British and French interests are concerned.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Mushrooms grow wild in great quantities and go to waste every year because many persons do not know how to distinguish the edible from the poisonous kinds. The edible sorts, including the big ink cap, oyster, velvet stemmed Collybia and brick top mushrooms, are to be found in the woods until cold weather, and botanists even find them bobbing up in winter during mild days.

Stewart, a botanist of the Geneva station, says there is little danger of confusing the late fall and winter mushrooms with poisonous forms if care is taken to avoid the poisonous Amanita, which has white gills, a ring on the steam, and a cup or sheath at the base of the stem.

By following this botanist's directions mushrooms should be picked with safety. In looking for mushrooms in the fall the ink caps will be found with large, grayish or grayish brown colored caps, usually about the size and shape of a small hen's egg. They grow in dense clusters around stumps or over buried wood. They may be found in rich soils in gardens, lawns, or barnyards.

The mushrooms with a cap shaped like an oyster shell are found on dead tree trunks, on stumps and logs; the caps are whitish or smoke colored, and they are two to five inches in width with short stems, growing in clusters with the caps overlapping, according to Stewart's brief description.

He finds that brick tops also grow in clusters about stumps and buried wood, and have fleshy caps of brick red color and from one to four inches across. At first the gills are white, then grayish or olive, and finally purplish brown. The other cold weather kind has a reddish yellow cap, white gills, and a velvety brown stem.

These earnings were equal to $35.19 a share on 94,893 shares of preferred and $2.02 a share on the no par common then outstanding in 1926, against $94.81 a share on 33,000 shares of preferred and $3.62 on the common outstanding in 1925.

Net profit for the first six months of 1927 was $1,837,112, or $1.12 a share on the common stock.

Of this amount 81 cents a share was earned in the second quarter and 31 cents in the first.

Merger Is Announced of Accessory Concerns

Another merger in the automobile accessory field was announced last night. The National Standard company will take over the Oakes company of Indianapolis and the carrier division of the Electric Refrigeration corporation of Detroit.

The directors of the National Standard company have voted to increase the capital stock from 150,000 to 210,000 no par shares. Stockholders will be offered the right to purchase two additional shares for each five shares now held. The proceeds and part of the company's earned surplus will be used to finance the consolidation.

The merging companies manufacture tire carriers, tire locks, radiator fans, and steel cables. The Oakes company is a subsidiary of the Martin-Parry company. Combined sales of the National Standard and Oakes companies last year were $2,586,123 and combined profits were $513,283.

Redeemable, in whole or in part, at the option of the Company on any semi-annual interest payment date prior to maturity, upon thirty days' prior notice at 103 if redeemed on or before November 1, 1930; thereafter at 102, if redeemed on or before November 1, 1933; thereafter at 101, if redeemed on or before November 1, 1936; and at 100½, if redeemed on May 1, 1937. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the head office of

The Company will agree to reimburse to owners resident in the respective states upon proper application to be specified in the Trust Agreement the following taxes paid in respect to these Debentures or the interest thereon: The Four Mills Tax in Pennsylvania; any Personal Property or Exemption Tax in Connecticut not exceeding 4/10% on the face amount in any year; and any Massachusetts Income Tax not exceeding in any year 6% of the interest on such Debentures.

Continental Oil Company (Maine) resulted from the consolidation in 1924 of the Mutual Oil Company and the Continental Oil Company of Colorado. The latter company had been operating in the Rocky Mountain states as a distributor of petroleum products for over forty years and was a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey at the time of the dissolution in 1911.

The Company owns or controls oil and gas leases covering approximately 30,000 acres of proven oil lands on which there are situated over 1,700 wells with many locations yet to be drilled. The present daily gross crude oil production exceeds 40,000 barrels and the net production exceeds 30,000 barrels. In addition to the producing acreage, the Company has leaseholds covering over 370,000 acres of prospective and undeveloped lands.

The Company operates 988 wholesale or bulk stations, and 477 retail stations of the "drive-in type" strategically located throughout the territory served. The real estate on which these service stations and the principal bulk plants are located is owned by the Company or its subsidiaries.

These Debentures will be direct obligations of the Company and, together with $2,066,000 of other obligations, will constitute the sole funded indebtedness of the Company and its subsidiaries.

The average annual net income for the three calendar years ended December 31, 1926, after depreciation and depletion, available for interest and Federal Income Taxes was $4,295,385 or more than 5½ times annual interest charges on the total funded indebtedness to be outstanding upon completion of this financing. For the nine months ended September 30, 1927 the net income after inventory adjustments but before depreciation and depletion, which is computed only at the end of the calendar year, was $4,128,241.61.

The consolidated balance sheet of the Company as of September 30, 1927, adjusted to give effect to the completion of this financing, shows current assets of more than five and one-half times current liabilities and net current assets of $17,505,446. Net assets after deducting all liabilities except funded indebtedness amount to $82,874,038, compared with a total of $14,066,000 funded indebtedness to be outstanding.

The Company has outstanding $36,057,840 of Common Stock of a par value of $10 per share. At current quotations this stock represents a market equity of over $65,000,000.

Price 99 and interest, to yield 5⅜%

We offer these Debentures, if, as and when issued to and received by us, subject to the approval by counsel of all legal proceedings in connection therewith. It is expected that delivery in the first instance will be made on or about November 7, 1927, in the form of temporary Debentures or interim certificates.

PRICES OF GRAINS ARE FAR BELOW SUMMER PEAKS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Values of grain, cotton, and securities were on the down grade last week, with the finish well toward the low point, at levels that suggest heavy general liquidation.

At the same time there is a feeling among the traders that there is nothing in sight at present on which to base purchases for a big advance, sentiment in the main being bearish on wheat, mixed on corn, and bullish on rye. The finish of the week was about the lowest close of the season. Wheat futures were off 5¼@8⅜c, corn down 2@3⅛c, oats ⅛@⅝c. Deferred futures of rye were 1⅜c lower, but December was up ⅝c compared with a week ago. Provisions followed the liquidation in other commodities, with lard off 32½@40c, short ribs 15@37½c, and bellies 15@22½c.

Big Drops Since August.

Wheat prices are off 28c on the nearby deliveries, and corn is off 35⅝@37¼c from the high point of Aug. 11. Wheat prices are down to the lowest since July, 1926, and it will not be a surprise to see them go still lower unless there is a material decrease in pressure from sellers and an increase in speculative and export buying.

Western Canada is the star on which the wheat trade of the world is centering its observations. The weather and marketing of wheat there are considered one of the most important factors in determining values. Another factor that will come in a little later and is being watched closely now is the weather and its effect on the approaching harvest in Argentina and Australia. Reports from there are more favorable than recently, although Australia is likely to have 50,000,000 bu less for export than last year.

December wheat closed Saturday at $1.22⅜@1.22⅝, March $1.25¾@1.25⅞, May $1.27⅝@1.27¾. Prices for the week follow:

Corn Well Liquidated.

Corn traders believe that weak holders have liquidated their futures and pressure is mainly from pit traders who incline to the selling side on bulges and whenever there is a decided weakness in wheat. Although prices dropped to the lowest of the season, with the exception of December, in sympathy with wheat, they are down to a level where there is less disposition to press the selling side and a belief that there is comparatively little money to be made by such operations. On the other hand there is a little accumulation for investment account because of the drastic decline in liquidation, but the impression prevails that it is too early to accumulate large lines with expectation of a big advance.

December closed Saturday at 83¼@83⅜c, March 87¼@87⅜c, May 89⅜@89½c. Prices for the week follow:

	December.	March.	May.

Hedging Pressure in Oats.

Speculators are absorbing hedging pressure on oats from the northwest, and from local cash handlers, and there is sufficient absorptive ability on the part of local traders to take care of the selling and hold prices within a moderate range. There was a break of almost 1c on December and May from the high point of the previous week, but net losses were small. Cash premiums are holding well and receipts in Chicago are small, but there is about an average movement at primary points. December closed Saturday at 45⅝@45¾c, March 47⅝@47¾c, May 48⅞c. Prices follow:

	December.	March.	May.

December Rye Advanced.

Exporters are said to be the leading longs in December rye, and local traders and northwestern cash handlers have the rye sold as a hedge. December rye developed strength in the face of weakness in other grains and closed at 97½c, or only 1¼c under March and 2¾c under May, the smallest discount of the season. The situation in rye in all is peculiar, with a surprising disappearance since harvest.

PRESSURE ON LARD FUTURES

All deliveries of lard, especially the nearby, were under pressure from longs and packers the last week. There were liberal deliveries of cash lard on October contract and considerable changing from the nearby to distant futures by carriers and speculators. Lower prices for cotton seed oil and corn had a depressing influence on values of hogs and product. Domestic trade in lard is fair and in meats good, but shipments for the week were less than last year. Prices for the week follow:

A-A-A SALESMEN.

Think of the lowered sales resistance you will meet in representing

FIRST—The oldest real estate development concern in America—40 years of successful suburban development without one failure.

SECOND—The concern which was the originator in Cincinnati in 1887 of the now widely copied methods of selling real estate on easy payments.

THIRD—The concern that has sold over $200,000,000 worth of property in 26 cities of the United States now worth close to a billion dollars.

FOURTH—The concern that has 100,000 customers.

FIFTH—The concern that on account of its vast experience eliminates the costly experimentation of amateurs—the public knows this, too.

SIXTH—The concern that renders a real service—sells its properties as cheaply as it can afford to sell them rather than for the maximum that it can get for them—that maintains the parklike appearance of its properties for years—that assists in the building of homes—that stands by its customers in times of financial stress—that last year actually RESOLD for the account of its customers over $3,000,000 worth of property—in each case at more than cost.

This is YOUR chance to connect—YOUR chance to make money—big money. The amount is only limited by your own ability to walk, talk and tell the truth. Experience is not necessary. Many of our biggest producers were wholly inexperienced when they came with us. Our one aim is to help you produce.

Everybody in the Real Estate field will soon have to admit that:

(a) Adequate transportation facilities must be included in the program of the development of subdivision properties.

(b) All underground and ground improvements—that is, sewer, water, sidewalks, gas, electricity, and paving—must be included in the development program in order that subdivision property may be sold and developed to meet the expectation of the purchaser.

(c) Properties must be planned and restricted in a way that will insure the growth in value and maintain a character through all the years of development and maturity.

Sales people who subscribe to this policy and interpret the conditions of the subdivision business in this manner will find Krenn & Dato's subdivision development operations as the most promising field for advancement and remuneration. Plan to have an interview at your convenience and discuss matters with the head of the Subdivision Sales Department.

AUTOS WITHOUT EXPENSE TO YOU.

I want to talk in a serious way to several serious-minded men who realize they have come to a time in life where they should line up with a reliable concern and take a position that will be permanent, where advancement will be certain and the immediate income satisfactory.

I want men who want to make selling their life work—men who are not too good to learn and who are willing to work a full 8 hours each day. I can truthfully show a real opening for the present and future to such men.

The men I place must use automobiles. If you own a car, I will arrange to pay you for its use. If you have no car, I will supply one without cost to you.

These positions are open now. The work is entirely city work. I will personally see that the men selected are properly trained and will have experienced men, successful men, go right into your territory with you to teach you the finer points of our business.

I don't care what your present work is—you may be an inside worker with no sales experience, but if you think you can qualify, I invite you to come in Monday after 10 A. M. and we will talk this opportunity over.

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the newspaper columns. If you desire employment can be made permanent, part time if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of overgrowth and expansion of our Chicago office. Earnings will delight the gentleman who is desirous of increasing his present income.

It is not necessary to "pound the pavements," or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the city of Chicago would be glad to avail himself of this splendid opportunity if he only knew the facts. Remember, you don't need experience; and if you realize the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution, we will put you in a good position if you will really devote one hour of your spare time in our work. NO RED TAPE. If you are over 25 years of age and are at present employed in some legitimate work, you will be given the utmost consideration; and an opportunity to earn an extra weekly check while still retaining your present position.

Work may be done at home and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required and work can be done easily by gentlemen in all lines of work.

An answer to this advertisement will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly check is solved. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. We pay weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlewomen and if wives or sisters have spare time and are willing to work bring them with you. If the opportunity to earn a substantial check every week will make you happy, this will be the happiest experience of your life. ACT. Idlers and stargazers stay way.

LADIES, STOP!!!

Read.................Answer

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the newspaper columns. If you desire, employment can be made permanent; part time if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of our growth and expansion of our Chicago offices. Earnings will delight the lady who is desirous of increasing her present income.

It is not necessary to "pound the pavements" or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the City of Chicago would be glad to avail herself of this splendid opportunity if she only knew the facts. Remember, you don't need experience; and if you realize the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution, we will put you in a good position if you will really devote one hour of your spare time in our work. NO RED TAPE. If you are over 25 years of age and are at present employed in some legitimate work you will be given the utmost consideration; and an opportunity to earn an extra weekly check while still retaining your present position.

Work may be done at home and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required, and work can be done easily by ladies in all lines of work.

An answer to this advertisement will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly check is solved. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. We pay weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlemen, and if husbands or brothers or sisters have spare time and are willing to work bring them with you. NOW IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY and are anxious to work, clip this ad and answer in person Tuesday afternoon, October 25th at 2:30 sharp and Tuesday evening at 8:00 sharp.

ROOM 1513, 624 S. MICHIGAN-AV.

Notice—This advertisement has been tremendously successful for dozens of happy applicants and our company. Now don't hesitate. Answer this advertisement and you will be given the same careful consideration that made scores of applicants wonderfully happy last week. This is not "just another adv." but a real opportunity for real people. You will never have another chance like this. If the opportunity to earn a substantial check every week will make you happy, this will be the happiest experience of your life. ACT. Idlers and star gazers stay away.

REMEMBER—TUESDAY AFTERNOON, October 25th, at 2:30 sharp, and TUESDAY EVENING at 8 o'clock sharp only. None will be considered after the above time.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

We are not trying to make all the second mortgages that could be made in Chicago and the immediate vicinity. We are only trying to save home owners the excessive charges which have heretofore been attached to anything known as a second mortgage.

We regard a second mortgage on a home as a legitimate and safe piece of business for which the borrower should have to pay a cost in proportion to the soundness of the loan as a piece of business.

By avoiding second mortgages on commercial and speculative properties we have been able to reduce our originally low rate twice and at the present time we charge 6% interest with commission of:

It will pay you to shop for your second mortgage and in your shopping it will pay you to ask for a detailed proposition with regard to your own personal need.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Chicago, Illinois, August 24, 1927.

A special meeting of the stockholders of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, duly called by the Board of Directors, will be held at the office of the Company, La Salle Street Station, in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 31st day of October, 1927, for the purpose of considering, voting and deciding whether the stockholders of the Company will concur in, ratify and approve the proceedings and resolutions of the Board of Directors had and adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors held August 24, 1927, wherein and whereby the Board of Directors authorized, and whether the stockholders will authorize,

[1] The creation of an authorized issue of Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be issued in series from time to time and to be limited to the aggregate principal amount of $80,000,000 at any one time outstanding;

[2] The execution and delivery of a Trust Indenture, with The National City Bank of New York as Trustee, to secure the payment of said Bonds which Trust Indenture shall provide for the issuance of a series of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be designated as its Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, to be dated September 1, 1927, to mature September 1, 1952, to be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Company on the terms stated in the Trust Indenture and to be issued upon the pledge under said Trust Indenture as security therefor of $45,000,000 principal amount of the Company's First and Refunding 4% Gold Bonds due April 1, 1934, and shall further provide for the issuance of additional series of said bonds thereunder from time to time, maturing at such dates, bearing such rate of interest and with such provisions for redemption and upon the deposit, as security for each series, of such collateral as may be determined upon at the time by the Board of Directors of the Company;

[3] The inclusion in said Trust Indenture of covenants to be made by the Company for itself and [in case of consolidation, merger or sale] for its successors and assigns of substantially the following effect:

[a] That neither the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of the Company nor any bonds prior in lien thereto will be extended;

[b] That on or before the maturity of the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, to wit, April 1, 1934, the Company, its successor or assign, will make a new mortgage which shall be a lien upon all the properties then subject to the First and Refunding Mortgage and will make provision in said new mortgage whereby all the Bonds then outstanding under the Trust Indenture to The National City Bank of New York, as Trustee, shall be secured by the said new mortgage equally and ratably with all obligations to be issued under such new mortgage;

[c] That the total amount of bonds to be secured by such new mortgage [together with all outstanding prior debts, after deducting the bonds reserved thereunder to retire the prior debts] shall not exceed three times the then outstanding capital stock of the Company, its successor or assign; and

[d] That pending the making of the said new mortgage the Company, its successors and assigns, will not make any new mortgage upon any of the property subject to the lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage, so that upon satisfaction of the latter the new mortgage may have the same rank as the First and Refunding Mortgage now has;

[4] The approval of the form of the Trust Indenture;

[5] The pledge at the present time under the Trust Indenture of $45,000,000 of the Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds as security for the $40,000,000 Bonds of Series A;

[6] The issuance at the present time of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds to be designated Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, and the sale thereof upon such terms as the Board of Directors may determine;

[7] The conferring of power upon the Board of Directors and officers of the Company to take all such action as may be necessary or advisable in connection with the creation of said authorized issue of $80,000,000 principal amount of Secured Gold Bonds and the issuance and sale or other disposition from time to time of additional series of said bonds;

[8] For the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors.
